WOMAN AND HER HOME.

THE TRYST WITH YOUTH.

"Where Youth and Love go wading through pools of primroses.—Alfred Noyes.

IT had come to her so suddenly—the sense that she was young, not old—that life was, in reality, eternally young. On her seventieth birthday! She raised her thin wrinkled hand to her forehead. Almost—she gave a slight laugh—so young her heart, so young—she had wondered—?

Only this morning she had sighed wistfully, remembering old Blackwood's noiseless steps, when her new maid, bringing the morning tea, had drawn the blind with a quite unnecessary twang.

And later, but an hour or so since, she had felt almost as if she had received an impertinence when Stewart, the one ancient retainer left, had suggested, with a sheepish note in his voice barely concealing the eagerness of his horticultural heart, the planting in the long border "'gin next season" a new kind of hollyhock, "Double Exquisite them's called, ma'am," instead of the old ones there so long.

And her answer had been so adequate.

"Stewart, never let any but the old flowers be planted there; the flowers your master liked are the ones I wish for, I require no new variety."

Then she had felt her full seventy years; an old, old woman.

Leaning a little heavily on her ebony stick she had walked down to the green gate that led to the copse where, morning after morning, year after year, she came for the glimpse of the hills that somehow reminded her of the Kerry hills of her youth.

And, as she stood there, a girl had come by—a primrose girl, fair and fresh as the flowers in her hand, singing a little song of the joy of the Spring—one who had never known the sorrow its joy can bring—in a voice that held many tones, and with eyes that had looked into hers confidingly, gladly.

Youth omnipotent, age fearless, meeting with youth that hid behind dimmed eyes, and played around the quieted smile.

The happy blush, the little gush of girlish words. And then, "I knew you would be glad, you would understand."

Youth to youth.

Was that how it had happened? On her seventieth birthday.

With a little laugh at her own thoughts she lifted to her lips the cool, delicious primroses the girl had left.

"The secret of youth," she whispered; "the secret of life—Immortality?"

"I have changed my mind, Stewart." The old gardener looked up, rose, touched his cap.

"Plant your Double Exquisites; they are somebody's idea to beautify the world, and we need beauty so" . . .

On a little table in her morning room, by a jar of old Chelsea, frail and lovely as herself, lay an open book. Someone had placed a primrose there as if to mark a page.

She lifted it to the light.

Maeterlinck! "There is no death."

DOROTHY HUNGERFORD.

JOTTINGS.

(BY AN IRISHWOMAN IN LONDON.)

I have seen several of the new vanity cases in use at the theatre lately, and the latest combination of tortoiseshell and gold is charming. The case is oblong, the lower part being devoted to cigarettes and the upper to powder, puff, mirror, etc. Some of them have lovely little silver and gold chains attached.

• • •

Many of the very smartest hats are shown with a veil to match attached. The close veil also has reappeared, and looks like being popular; but black, with large designs and spots, is not so much in evidence: the veils are usually in pearl-grey or a light shade, and, worn with the right hat, they not only look smart, but are very becoming and give a woman on the wrong side of thirty a distinctly youthful look.

• • •

A friend of mine had her luncheon table charmingly decorated with violets growing in little white china bowls. There was a fair-sized one in the middle of the table and smaller ones in front of each guest. The idea was so fresh and pretty and economical, too—the plants, with care, lasting quite a time.

• • •

An attractive addition to a lunch table to which I was recently invited was a novelty in serviettes. These were in white linen, with an inch border of delphinium blue, which exactly matched the border to the china. Another rather original idea is to have the dinner service in several different colours, and to use table napkins of different shades to tone: the effect is daring and very gay.

FICKLE FASHION.

RETURN OF PRE-WAR TRIMMINGS.

LIKE the garden lady of nursery renown, Dame Fashion is delightfully contrary, and the very fact that the present mode is unusually wayward and whimsical renders it adaptable.

Since fashion sponsors a wide diversity of silhouettes, varying the up-and-down slimness of recent season by pleatings, hoop effects from 1830, bustles from our grandmothers' times, hip draperies, and the straight Egyptian lines, every woman can choose what best becomes her.

There is a marked tendency to the use of pre-war trimmings and accessories, which were abandoned during the lean years because of the impossible laundry prices. This tendency is to the advantage of the woman whose wardrobe expenditure must be limited, for the laces, pleatings, embroidered jabots and flowers lend new smartness to comparatively inexpensive costumes.

Piquant little white net undersleeves or collar and cuffs of creamy organdie endow an experienced costume with a beguiling touch of virgin newness, while a worn frock learns the secret of renewed youth by associating with guimpes and waistcoats of linen or batiste.

Paris sponsors the untrimmed hat, designed to be worn with separate wreaths and cockades or else disguised beneath a fragile veil. A good shape dependent on "line" for its beauty can be worn successfully with half a dozen gowns if the changes in trimming are rung judiciously.

Lingerie accessories, ribbons, embroideries and flowers afford innumerable clever devices for giving apparent expensiveness to the limited wardrobe.

MUDDLERS AND MANAGERS.

ARE you a "perfect muddler" or a born manager? It is generally the lack of energy, or the possessing of it, that settles this question. The muddler is too lazy to plan things in advance, too indolent to work out domestic economies, too slack to tackle worries as they come. Then the muddles accumulate and end in serious trouble.

A muddler is a stupid person, unable to grasp matters quickly—no energy, just leaving things to chance, and "chance" seldom has a mind to extricate muddlers. "Chance" is misnamed. She is more often "opportunity," seized and held on to by the energetic "born manager," who is "all alive oh," and does not let "chance" slip by for want of a greeting.

The manager has a motto, and it is an energetic motto: "Do things for yourself," or, rather, "Know how to do things."

To know you must learn; to learn you must apply your faculties. Dreaming is no good; it is too easy going, not virile, like energy.

The energy of good management must not be abused. If overdone it simply ceases to be good management, but becomes the complete muddle. Energetic people need not necessarily wear themselves out till dog tired, and consequently become peevish and ill. Leisure for culture and pleasure is part of the scheme of things for the "born manager."

Are you a "perfect muddler" or a "born manager"?

"Neither."

Just so. Many people steer the middle course. It is preferable to the "muddler," and not up to the "manager" standard. Do not slide back, but forge ahead and cultivate an intelligent energy. Do not go beyond, or you will topple over the highest rung of the ladder, and the moment you leave off managing your own personal affairs and start on other people's business, then you lose all you have gained.

A manager should never deteriorate into a muddler!

ARTS AND CRAFTS.

ONE associates arts and crafts with a series of fascinating pastimes capable of being undertaken in the home during spare hours and in the evenings. Many girls who to-day have an up-to-date little shop or other flourishing concern can trace their careers back to some favourite hobby of their leisure hours.

Training is just as necessary for home craft work as in any other calling. We all know the home-made, amateurish-looking articles which our friends sometimes try to sell us, and to buy which is simply an act of charity.

Leather work, fancy box-making, enamel and jewellery designing are among those which the girl can start at home. Provided she possesses the necessary skill with her fingers and has a certain amount of originality, when a girl has gone through the necessary technical training there is no reason why she should not make a success of a home hobby.

In the first place, she wants to get the reputation of turning out excellent and neatly-finished articles. One successful piece of work in a girl's favourite art or craft will frequently lay the foundation of a sucessful home career. A cleverly-painted fan or miniature, a beautifully-made piece of lace, or a little landscape in water-colours pleases some friend, and the worker soon finds herself with one or two commissions, which, if executed promptly and well, will establish her reputation. She must be practical as well as artistic, able to value her work and capable of bringing to a good finish anything she starts out to do.

I advise any young girl (after she has had the necessary preliminary training) to first of all canvass for orders among her friends, assuring them that they will get value for money and that they might just as well give her the chance of making artistic gifts as go to the shops and buy them. Having proved what she can do, it would be a good plan to take a small shop in a good-class neighbourhood, take a friend with a little capital in with her, and run the place on a profit-sharing basis.

Metal work, jewellery, silver and enamel work, hand-painted pottery, hand and home dyed woven fabrics, and stamped leather and suede work are all in great demand. The producer or creator of original and lovely things stands a better chance of making money than the teacher of the craft. There are many excellent art and craft centres where the necessary training can be obtained, and where a girl may get to realise the market value of her work.

GOOD SPORT AT PUNCHESTOWN.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL AND MR. COSGRAVE AGAIN PRESENT.

VICTORY OF ST. JAGO.

As is always the case on Conyngham Cup day, the crowd was much larger yesterday both in the general enclosures and outside on the course, where the country folk, true to custom, mustered in great strength, and very thoroughly did they seem to enjoy themselves. So, for that matter, must have everyone who had the good fortune to be present, for the weather was gloriously fine and warm, and the sport, if anything, was even more interesting than on the opening afternoon. It was, indeed, a splendid day's racing, worthy the best traditions of Punchestown, which is saying a good deal, and, carried out as it was under ideal conditions, he would be hard to please who could find fault. The Governor-General and the President of the Free State Executive were again present, accompanied by some friends, and they were delighted with their experience.

Splendid Sport.

Though no outstanding performance marked the proceedings, the sport maintained a fine level of excellence right through the piece. The Conyngham Cup, a race which has been won in the past by such good horses as Come Away, Frigate, Royal Meath and Covert Hack, to mention but a few, was, to judge by the wagering, generally voted to lie between James Pigg and St. Jago, who looked none the worse of his exertions of the previous day, when he finished second to Pride of Arras for the Maiden Plate, the only one of the other eight runners to have a quotation being Croft House. The latter, however, fell early, and for quite a long way Castlewrixon Wire looked like effecting a turn up. Indeed, it was not until half-way up the straight that the more fancied pair caught her, and, served by a nice pull in the weights—he was in receipt of 27lb. from James Pigg—St. Jago scored rather easily in the end. The winner, who made a slight mistake at the penultimate obstacle, is a very useful horse who jumps and stays well, and should gain further laurels for his owner, Major C. Mitchell.

The La Touche Memorial Cup, instituted in memory of the late Mr. Percy La Touche, who was so closely identified with the fortunes of Punchestown, and which takes the place of the National Hunt Cup, brought out a fine field of "foxcatchers," including representatives from the Ward Union, Kildare, Meath, Co. Down, Tipperary and Limerick Hounds. On the strength of her success in the Ward Hunt Cup, Mrs. Drummond was promoted to the head of the wagering, best backed of the others being Conny and South Lake, whilst Zirek, who has been winning point-to-points recently, was supported to a man by the locals. Falls were numerous, only four of the twelve runners completing the course, amongst those to come down being Conny, and a mile from home Mrs. Drummond, Real Eager and Zirek were out by themselves, and when the first-named assumed a clear lead after the wall had been negotiated she was loudly acclaimed the winner; but Zirek quickly lessened the gap, and his command of speed on the flat enabled the son of Zria to catch and beat the favourite after a fine set-to.

Many Mishaps.

Grief was also abundant in the race for the Bishopscourt Cup, seven of the twelve moderates who contested it falling, and the best of them proved to be Rough and Ready, who was not so much fancied as several of the others, but he always dominated the position and made light of the efforts of the favourite, White Diamond II., to dispute the issue with him.

There were several mishaps in the Downshire Plate, for which Bachelor's Belle, accounted unlucky in the Ladies' Cup on Tuesday, was installed favourite from Rising Moon and Ada, whilst others well backed were Volage Lass, Glencar, and Her Boy. The last named drew out with such a long lead half a mile from the end that his victory seemed assured until a bad mistake at the second last fence put him out of court. Then Bachelor's Belle flattered, but slipped up on the flat, and Rising Moon keeping Ada at bay won a trifle easily. It subsequently transpired that Her Boy broke his back when he came down.

Silvermore was never fairly extended in the Gowran Grange Plate, in which he readily supplemented his Fairyhouse laurels, and Nurney had an equally easy task in the Kildare Hunt Plate. Nurney belongs to Mr. James Fitzsimons, who won on the previous day the Prince of Wales's Plate and the Tickell Cup with Balrennit and Sweet Charlotte respectively, so that he had quite a good meeting. Mrs. Drummond settled down in front of Zirek, Conny, Midnight Chase, Goldflaker, The Nun III., Real Eager, After the War, Funny Fool, and Holdfast, with South Lake last. This was the order for a mile and a half, when Conny fell, and The Nun III. took up the running. At the end of two miles After the War and Holdfast fell, and Funny Fool was pulled off, as was Midnight Chase, shortly afterwards. The Nun III. fell a mile from home, and Mrs. Drummond came on from Real Eager and Zirek, these being well clear of South Lake, Hot Ocean, and Goldflaker. Real Eager blundered at the wall, and Zirek, drawing out in pursuit of Mrs. Drummond, got on terms after the last fence, and won by three lengths; thirty lengths divided second and third. # PONTEFRACT.

A ROYAL VICTORY.

DARRAGH WINS CHIEF EVENT.

During Tuesday night the weather was very bad at Pontefract, and yesterday morning opened none too good. This, notwithstanding, there was a big all-round company in attendance. Not only was the running track as soft as possible, but the rings were in a very sodden state, and some of the horses could not act at all on the soft going. Taken generally, no fault could be found with the fields, but in some cases class was sadly wanting.

Of course, the outstanding race of the day was the £1,000 Pontefract Plate. For this Lord Derby's candidate Pharos was all the rage. The best the colt could do, however, was to finish third to the gelding Darragh, who is an Irish importation, and Portumna, who wound up second in request.

Weston led off well by capturing the first two events respectively on Indelible and Skivick. The latter at a subsequent auction was sold to Mr. L. Brook for 360 guineas.

The Castle Selling Plate was won by the outsider Lucentio; and after Roysterer had shown his superiority over a good field in the Hardwicke Plate, it was left to the public to cheer to the very echo the victory of the King's Bowood in the New Stands Handicap, for which he started favourite, but only just finished in front of the second, Jazz Band.

GOSSIP FROM THE COURSE.

DARRAGH SURPRISES THE EXPERTS.

IRISH THREE-YEAR-OLD'S EASY WIN AT PONTEFRACT.

(FROM OUR TRAVELLING CORRESPONDENT.)
LONDON, Wednesday Night.

I understand that Mr. C. L. Mackean's Soldennis, now trained at Newmarket by Lord George Dundas, is under orders for Ireland, and that he will not run against Roman Bachelor and Monarch in the Lingfield Park Spring Stakes this afternoon.

Lord Dundas fairly put the cat among the pigeons this afternoon when the Irish three-year-old Darragh, whom he trains for Sir Thomas Dixon, won the Pontefract Plate in a canter, beating some of the best of our classic three-year-olds like Pharos and Silver Grass. Darragh made every yard of the running, and beat Portumna, hard held, by a length and a half, with the favourite, Pharos, a head away, third.

Pharos was giving Darragh five pounds, but the Irish colt seemed to win with something like a stone in hand. Darragh's form in Ireland last season was very good, and, on the whole, consistent, but, in spite of his victory to-day, it would be a little premature to assume that the Irish three-year old form is as good as that on this side.

Judging by the two-year-old races of last year, I, like many other people, had formed the impression that we have here this season an exceptionally good lot of three-year-olds, of whom Pharos did not come out by any means the worst.

Pharos Beaten.

It was a very impressive performance by which he wound up the season at Hurst Park last year, when he beat Silver Grass, Top Gallant, Hurry Off, and Friar's Melody. That form was, however, discounted this afternoon. Darragh, on his running to-day, showed himself an exceptionally good colt, but it was a surprise to see Portumna finishing in front of Pharos. Last year Portumna won only one race, when he beat Parth at York. In the Free Handicap he was estimated at 16lbs. behind Pharos, and no fewer than 26lbs. behind Town Guard. To-day he beat Pharos by a head for second place, neither of them having the ghost of a chance with the winner.

It is fairly clear from the result of the race that Pharos does not quite stay the mile, a weakness of which he gave signs when Twelve Pointer beat him at Newmarket last back-end. Silver Grass also ran like a non-stayer here, and Friar finished absolutely last, a position that completely mystified his trainer.

Darragh being a gelding is, of course, not in the Derby; but if the running to-day is any criterion, what a chance he seems to have of winning an important handicap, such as the Cambridgeshire, later in the season!

The King's Horses.

The King's horse, Bowood, was a clever winner of the New Stands Handicap at Pontefract, just getting up to beat Jazz Band by a head, with Rory's Glen, who won the Irish Cesarewitch when trained by Jeffery, third. His Majesty, however, was not so lucky at Lingfield, for his Mosaic was only second in the first race of the day, after being considerably interfered with by the winner, Lord Lonsdale's Sword Play.

There seemed good enough grounds for an objection, but the King does not raise protests of this kind, so Sword Play got the race.

Fred Darling trains the winner for Lord Lonsdale, and Sword Play is, by the way, the first winner he has turned out for this nobleman since he took over his horses from Alfred Sadler last year.

Another shock to our illusions over the three-year-old form was provided by Old Nic, to whom Pombal gave 10 lbs. and an easy beating in the Chiddingstone Maiden Plate. Old Nic had run a fine race at Liverpool against Moabite and Vambrace, both of whom are considered high-class three-year-olds, but here he was easily slammed by the winner. This was Pombal's fourth victory since the season started, and it was the easiest he has gained. That he is a greatly improved colt since last year there is no manner of doubt.

To-day's Racing.

The rest of the racing at Lingfield does not call for much comment, but we should see a good race to-morrow for the Lingfield Spring Stakes. Roman Bachelor has arrived to run, and his most formidable opponent will be Monarch and Collaborator, the latter a most erratic horse last season, whose form was at times brilliant, but who gained the reputation of being very uncertain.

Roman Bachelor and Monarch meet at level weights, so the race should be something approaching a good thing for Mr. Nigel Baring's horse.

Americus Boy runs for the Four Elms Maiden Plate, and on this easy five furlongs course this non-stayer may just be able to win. His owner tells me he was left fully a dozen lengths when he lost at Leicester.

In the Mapleton Two-Year-Old Plate, Basil Jarvis runs his two-year-old, Back Stair, who was so narrowly beaten by Double Entendre at Kempton Park, and may be good enough to win here.

GALTEE MORE.

MIDNIGHT WIRE FROM LINGFIELD.

FROM A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.
Wednesday Night.

The two selling events are likely to be won by DUSKY BELLE, a two-year-old, that is reported above the average run of platers, and the handicap for the seniors should be secured by THEALBY.

In regard to the Kenley Handicap I select LADY DIANA, and one that is likely to trouble Escott's mare is Hogier.

The Spring Stakes should be won by ROMAN BACHELOR. He has gone well of late, and should not be troubled to give the weight away.

BACK STAIR (nap) ran an unlucky race against Double Entendre, and in the Mapleton Plate he has a sound chance.

In the Four Elms Plate the best should prove to be AMERICUS BOY, a free striding chestnut of speed, that will be well suited by the downhill course.

SPORTING PARAGRAPHS.

J. Lynn rode two winners at Punchestown yesterday—viz., Rough and Ready and Nurney.

It is stated that an important offer has been made to M. Camille Blanc for the taking over of the whole of his racing stable and breeding establishment.

The success of Nurney in the Kildare Hunt Plate at Punchestown was the third winner at the meeting supplied by the veteran, Mr. James Fitzsimons, he having won the Prince of Wales's Plate and Tickell Cup on Tuesday by the aid of Balrennit and Sweet Charlotte, respectively.

In view of the fact that the English cricket team is not due in Australia until the end of 1924, Mr. Frank Iredale, Secretary of the New South Wales Cricket Association, has suggested that a South African team should make a brief tour in Australia next summer. He suggests that Test matches for the tour should be limited to three.

LINGFIELD.

POMBAL'S FOURTH SUCCESSIVE WIN.

Those who had experienced the wintry blasts of Warwick prepared for Lingfield by wearing the heaviest of winter clothing, only to find the most genial conditions and the warmth of early summer. Like the weather, too, the sport was bright and invigorating.

Penalised two-year-olds have been getting beaten, and Dante was another of them. He is the Beatrice colt, and had won the Lincoln Plate; but other youngsters have been coming on, and he now made little show in the Spring Two-Year-Old Plate. Mosaic, carrying the colours of the King, gave quite a promising display, but was bored by the winner, Sword Play. Objections are frequently lodged on more flimsy pretexts, but objections are taboo in cases where His Majesty's horses are concerned.

It is understood that a coup was landed with Juvelca in the Surrey Selling Plate. The youngster, who is a smart animal in this class, was trained by the ex-jockey, Herbert Toon, for Mr. Jesse Brown, a well-known Midland professional. Flag Captain, representing Mr. Clare Vyner, who the previous day was married to a grand-daughter of the Duke of Richmond, is certain to win in his turn. He is a racing-like son of By Jingo.

Pombal gave further evidence of his improvement when, in the Chiddingstone Maiden Plate, he scored his fourth win in succession. Bullock always had him nicely balanced, and was looking about for the danger after going half-way. Pombal must have an outside chance for the classics. He is engaged in both the Two Thousand Guineas and the Derby. While Old Nic has evidently not gone back since his two-year-old days, Heliaster had scored in such improved style at Kempton that he started a very short-priced favourite. For some reason or other he did not approach anything like his previous form, for he was staggering about the course a beaten horse before he had gone half-way.

Almost as easy a winner was Wayfarer in the Victoria Spring Handicap. He was well ridden by Timmins, who was introduced here from South Africa by Mr. S. Joel. During the winter Timmins has ridden the winners of South African classic races for Sir Abe Bailey. Scapin, who was second, carried Mr. Raphael's colours, though earlier in the afternoon he had been sold by that owner to Mr. A. Smith for 240 guineas.

To-day V. Smyth rides Cuckoo and Oriel, and Lister, Fallen Petal. J. Townsend, the Indian jockey, has riding engagements at Pontefract.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

An attractive card has been provided for the second stage of the Lingfield meeting, and, judging by the entries, fields should again be good. A good deal of rain fell on Tuesday, which is inclined to make the going a little holding. Still, if the weather remains fair, it should be far from heavy. To-day the outstanding event on the card is the Lingfield Park Spring Stakes, for which, apart from older horses, several useful three-year-olds are engaged, though it is unlikely anything of note from the latter division will go to the post, both Heliaster and Pharos having run yesterday, though Jarvie is not to be despised and, I understand, runs. Gooch is strongly represented by Roman Bachelor and Poisoned Arrow, and I believe the former does duty. I should be sorry to oppose Roman Bachelor, but, in my opinion, he hardly gets a mile, and, as the going is on the soft side, I shall look elsewhere for the winner.

COLLABORATOR,

in his best form, should certainly win. He has had a long rest, and may, perhaps, feel inclined to race on this occasion. Anyhow, I feel inclined to give him one more chance and make him my selection, fearing danger from Jarvie. For the remaining events selections are as follow:—

YESTERDAY'S COURT CASES

PROFITS ON BARLEY SALES.

MESSRS. GUINNESS'S APPEAL.

Yesterday in the Law Courts, Dublin Castle, in Court No. 4, before the Lord Chief Justice, Mr. Justice Dodd, Mr. Justice Pim, and Mr. Justice Samuels, the case of Guinness, Son and Co., Ltd., v. Morris and the Commissioners of Inland Revenue was mentioned in order that a day might be fixed for the hearing.

The case comes before the Court on a case stated by the Commissioners for the special purposes of the Income Tax Acts. Messrs. Guinness appealed against the additional assessment of income tax arising out of their sales of stocks of barley by direction of the British Government. The following are the assessments appealed against:—£20,450 for the year ending 5th April, 1919; £17,217 for the year ending 5th April, 1920; and £20,114 for 1921; and they further appealed against an assessment for excess profits duty in the sum of £126,014 (subject to a set off in respect of deficiencies in previous accounting prices) for the accounting period of three months ending 30th June, 1917. The questions raised on the appeal is whether certain profits arising from the sale of barley ought to be included as profits arising from a trade or business carried on by the appellants for the purpose of assessment of income tax and excess profit duty.

Mr. Phelps said that he appeared for Messrs. Guinness.

Mr. S. L. Brown, K.C., said he appeared, with Mr. Sullivan, K.C., and Mr. Denning K.C., for the Inland Revenue. This was a case of very great importance, and would certainly run into two days.

Lord Chief Justice—It is a case that should be heard by three judges?

Mr. Brown—Yes.

The Court fixed the hearing for Monday, the 30th inst.

MANCHESTER INTERNEE.

HABEAS CORPUS APPLICATION.

Before the Master of the Rolls, sitting yesterday in Court No. 2 at Dublin Castle, the case of Arthur FitzGerald O'Hara v. the Attorney-General and others was mentioned It was listed in Mr. Justice Powell's Court on an application on notice for a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Mr. O'Hara, a tailor, of 22 Furnival street, Manchester, who was arrested last month on an order signed by the Home Secretary and deported to Ireland, where he has been interned by the Free State Government.

The application for a writ of habeas corpus was made ex-parte on the 29th March before the Master of the Rolls, who allowed notice to be served on the Government for the first day of the Easter sittings.

Mr. John O'Byrne, who (instructed by Mr. Corrigan, Chief State Solicitor) appeared for the Government, said that the notice had only reached them last Monday, and the notice had been so short that it was quite impossible for them to be in a position to deal with the case that day. They had communicated with the plaintiff's solicitor, and told him that they would apply that day for an adjournment.

The Master of the Rolls said that a writ of summons had been issued by the plaintiff, and the writ was attached to Mr. Justice Powell's Court. Strictly speaking, the application for an adjournment should come before Mr. Justice Pim (who is acting for Mr. Justice Powell); but there would be no objection to his formally adjourning it.

Mr. Wood, K.C., with whom was Mr. W. J. Gleeson (instructed by Mr. Philip H. O'Reilly), for the plaintiff, said the only matter was as to the date to which the matter should be adjourned.

Mr. O'Byrne suggested the 18th inst.

Mr. Wood—And have the affidavit by next Monday.

Mr. O'Byrne—I will do my best.

The Master of the Rolls adjourned the case to the 18th inst.

SEQUEL TO GARAGE FIRE.

In Court No. 4 (King's Bench Division), at Dublin Castle, before Mr. Justice Pim, in the case of Thomas Donohugh, 9 Talbot place, Dublin, motor car owner, against Bewley, Sons and Co., Ltd., 20 Henry street, Dublin,

Mr. Philip Smyth (instructed by Mr. A. E. Walker), for the plaintiff, applied for an order for discovery of documents. The action was brought to recover damages for the breach by the defendants of a contract of bailment in respect of a motor car and for the negligence of the defendants and their servants. In July, 1921, it appeared, the plaintiff entrusted a motor car to the defendants, who own a motor garage in Prince's street, Dublin, on the terms that they would take proper care of it while in the garage, the plaintiff agreeing to pay 14s. a week to the defendants. The car was set on fire on the 16th of July, 1921, in the garage, and was greatly damaged; and the plaintiff claimed £80 damages. The defendants denied any contract.

The application was granted.

ACTION AGAINST TRAVELLER.

In Court No. 4, before Mr. Justice Pim, in the case of Cecil Scott, 142 Pembroke road, Ballsbridge, accountant's clerk, v. Chester Nugent, 33 Northumberland road, Ballsbridge, commercial traveller,

Mr. J. M. Fitzgerald (instructed by Messrs. Stewart and Orr), for the plaintiff, applied for an order giving liberty to issue subpœnas ad testificandum out of the jurisdiction directed to James Moore Pollin, solicitor, 41 Donegall street, Belfast; Elizabeth Bailie, of Stormont View, Knock, Belfast, typist, and Thomas McGorry, of 56 and 58 Ann street, Belfast, draper's assistant, to attend to give evidence at the trial of the action. The action was brought for alleged crim. con.

Mr. Justice Pim granted the application.

APPOINTMENT OF A RECEIVER.

In Court No. 4, before Mr. Justice Pim, in the case of the Leeds Woollen Co., Ltd., v. John Kennedy,

Mr. Devitt (instructed by Mr. William Dwyer) applied for an order on behalf of the plaintiff appointing a receiver by way of equitable execution over a sum payable to the defendant by the Minister of Finance in respect of criminal injury. Counsel moved on the affidavit of Mr. Dwyer, solicitor, which stated that on the 26th March last the plaintiff recovered judgment against the defendant for £70 5s. 10d. and £8 2s. 9d. costs. The defendant obtained a decree for criminal injuries against the County Council of Tipperary (North Riding) for £5,500 and £70 6s. 9d. costs. The decree had been reviewed by the Compensation (Ireland) Commission, and the defendant had been awarded £5,182 12s. 2d. and £70 6s. 9d. costs. Particulars of the award were published in the Iris Oifigiuil.

Mr. Justice Pim granted the application, and appointed Mr. John J. McDonald, solicitor, receiver by way of equitable execution.

WRIT OUT OF JURISDICTION.

In Court No. 4, before Mr. Justice Pim, in the matter of the intended action of John O'Neill, Ltd., of the Lucania Works, Pleasants street, Dublin, v. James Nesbitt, cycle agent, of Warrenpoint, Co. Down,

Mr. Devitt (instructed by Mr. John J. McDonald) applied on behalf of the intended plaintiffs for an order giving leave to issue and serve a writ out of the jurisdiction on the defendant who resides in Warrenpoint, in Northern Ireland. The action was intended to be brought to recover £28 9s. 6d., the price of three bicycles and their carriage. The contract, it was stated, was made within the jurisdiction of the Court.

Mr. Justice Pim granted the application.

BIRCH FOR BOY BURGLARS.—Three boys, named Maher, Shore and Jordan, were charged in the Dublin Police Court yesterday with breaking into Mrs. Annie Filgate's provision shop at 8 Summerhill, and stealing £7 10s. The entry was effected by Maher, while the other defendants waited outside. With the stolen money the boys bought chocolates and went to the "pictures." Maher gave his mother £2 0s. 6d., and admitted that it was stolen. The magistrate ordered the defendants to receive six strokes of the birch. The parents of Shore and Jordan were ordered to pay £1 each compensation, and Mrs. Maher was directed to restore the money given to her by her son. Each defendant was required to find bail in £5 to be of good behaviour for the next two years.

ACCOUNTANTS' STUDENTS' SOCIETY.—The first of a series of meetings under the auspices of the Chartered Accountants' Students' Society was held at the Metropole Restaurant on Tuesday, when there was a large attendance of students and their friends. The proceedings took the form of a mock shareholders' meeting. A very instructive and entertaining discussion took place on the accounts submitted to the shareholders, and the evening was brought to a close by a most enjoyable musical programme contributed by Messrs. F. W. Maguire, Norman Maguire, M. J. M. McKeown, P. H. Robinson, T. J. Neary, with Miss Maureen McCartan at the piano.

RURAL HOUSING.—At the meeting of the Rathdown (No. 2) Rural Council yesterday, the Clerk read a letter from the Minister for Local Government, stating that he had under consideration the question of providing funds for rural housing, and that the Council would do well to defer consideration of the representations received by it under the Labourers' Act until such time as the Minister is in a position to state definitely the terms upon which such funds would be available. A councillor observed that that was cold comfort for the men of the rural districts. He did not see why some money could not be given towards rural as well as urban districts.

GUARDIANS' APPOINTMENT.—At the meeting of the Dublin Guardians yesterday, Nason J. Crone was appointed temporary male lunatic attendant in the workhouse by twelve votes to nine. At the request of a guardian, a letter from the Local Government Department, read at the last meeting of the Board, was re-read. The Department intimated that its decision not to sanction the appointment of this man was final, and could not be reconsidered. The auditor would probably hold the guardians who are responsible liable for the extra expense incurred in advertising the position.

PRISON FOR ROBBING GAS METER.—William Brennan, who pleaded guilty in the Dublin Police Court yesterday to a charge of having broken and robbed a gas meter at 77 Lower Mount street, was sent to prison for a month. The defendant, in a statement, admitted breaking the lock of the meter, and on different dates stealing coppers amounting to 7s. or 8s. The defendant also stated that he left the house when his mother found that he was robbing the meter.

STOLEN CHEQUES.—Joseph McDonnell, no home or business, who was charged in the Dublin Police Court yesterday with stealing two cheques for different amounts from the Wallpaper Company, 183 Great Brunswick street, on March 29, was sent to prison for four months. The defendant entered the premises and demanded money from the manager, who refused to give him any. When he left the shop two cheques were missed, and were subsequently traced to the defendant. He stated that he had been drinking at the time.

SCRAP IRON EXPORTS.—Regular shipments of twisted iron and steel girders and rails are taking place from the Port of Dublin. These ruins of maliciously destroyed bridges and railways go to English and Scottish foundries to be re-cast. A cargo left yesterday while a vessel from Antwerp brought in new girders.

NATURALISTS' FIELD CLUB.—A meeting of the Dublin Naturalists' Field Club will be held in the Royal Irish Academy, Dawson street, this evening, at 8 o'clock, when Mr. M. J. Gorman will read a paper, illustrated with lantern slides, on "Some Fungus Galls." Visitors will be welcomed.

CONNAUGHT.

EXPENDITURE TO BE LIMITED.—Roscommon County Board of Health yesterday had before it plans and specifications for improving the County Home. The Secretary explained that £7,000 had already been expended on improvements. It was decided to postpone consideration of the plans, a member remarking that with the country in its present state it was no time to spend money.

LEINSTER.

JUDGE ON BRIGHTER OUTLOOK.—Addressing the Grand Jurors at Wicklow Quarter Sessions yesterday, Judge Dromgoole regretted that they had a heavier task than had ever fallen to the lot of a County Wicklow jury. There were eighteen indictments, which was far above the average. It was a heavy list, even when spread over a considerable period, but they knew that there had been certain irregularities, and for some time people really thought that they could commit a lot of these things with impunity. That state of affairs was coming to an end. They were dealing with criminal arrears over a period of a year and a-half. Referring to the large attendance of jurors he said that it was encouraging for the future of the country, and they could take it as a good omen. After all, whatever Government was in power, the security of persons and property throughout the country rested with the people themselves, and when they had the jurors attending, and prepared to do their duty in the administration of the law, he thought that they might look forward with confidence to the future.

DELGANY HOTEL LICENCE REFUSED.—At Wicklow Quarter Sessions yesterday opposition was offered to the application of Miss McParland, Delgany Hotel, for a new hotel licence, which, she pleaded, was required because of the great number of visitors to Delgany. Opposition was based on all the statutory grounds, and, after evidence, the judge, holding that the accommodation was insufficient and the necessity not imperative, dismissed the application. There was room for a hotel like the applicant's, and people could come for a week-end without requiring drink.

RAN INTO A LAMP.—James Killeen, ploughman, Blacklion, sued the Greystones Electric Supply Company, Greystones, at Wicklow Quarter Sessions yesterday, for damages for injury, sustained by hitting his head against an unlighted lamp-post on the night of December 19 last. Contributory negligence in rushing wildly from a house was pleaded. A sum of £10 was awarded.

INFIRMARY AND PRIVATE HOSPITAL.—Wexford County Council has decided to let County Wexford Infirmary at a rent of £100 a year, for use as a private hospital. The infirmary was closed a month ago in consequence of the Council's decision to cease payment of the annual subsidy towards its upkeep.

42 YEARS A MIDWIFE.—King's County Hospital and Homes Committee has granted the midwife of Kilcormac district, who recently resigned after forty-two years' service, a superannuation allowance of £50 13s. 4d. The salary of the surgeon to the County Hospital, Tullamore, has been fixed at £400 a year.

LONGFORD HOTEL CLAIMS.—Longford Hotel and Garage Company, Ltd., has lodged claims with the District Council for £2,500 for the burning of offices and stabling, and £4,600 for the destruction of garage and motor cars.

COUNTY COUNCIL IN FUNDS.—At the meeting of Wexford County Council, the Secretary reported that rates to the amount of £40,342 had been lodged with the treasurer. He added that the Council was now as well off as any council in Ireland.

£12,000 CLAIM.—Wexford Rural District Council has received a claim for £12,000 from Mr. Michael Doyle for the burning of his residence and out-offices on February 21 and March 21.

PRESENTATION TO BANK MANAGER.—Mr. P. P. Purdon, manager of the Northern Bank in Bray, who is retiring, has been presented with an illuminated address and a cheque by a number of friends.

MUNSTER.

QUEENSTOWN'S OLDEST INHABITANT.—Mr. Edward King, a retired pilot, and Queenstown's oldest resident, celebrates his hundredth birthday to-day. He has lived in Queenstown for fifty-three years. Mr. King first served in an East India company's clipper for eighteen months, and then joined the Navy, being posted as a petty officer instructor to a training ship at Queenstown in 1850. He was invalided out of the Service and became a coasting pilot. In 1869 he was appointed pilot by the Cork Harbour Board. He retired in 1881. Mr. King walks on the pier and water-front daily, reads the newspapers, writes a good hand, and does much water-colour painting. He is a life-long teetotaller and a non-smoker.

ALLEGED ROBBERY OF PENSIONERS.—At Tralee Martin Houlihan and Michael Whelan were committed for trial in custody on charges with having, on February 25, broken into the house of David Carrol at Ardoughter and robbed him and his wife of £44. The old couple, who are very feeble and are in receipt of the old age pension, said that they had saved the money for their funerals. A National Army sergeant said that on the day after the alleged robbery Houlihan entered the Lixnaw Barracks and said that he would "stand a gallon of porter to the company." In the evening Houlihan "stood drinks" in a local public-house. He was a labourer, but never did much work. He was "a sort of a sportsman." (Laughter.)

RATES IN KERRY.—The new system of paying the rates into the bank adopted by the Kerry County Council is working very satisfactorily. A beginning was made with North Kerry, which was the most backward part of the county in its payments. The demands were sent out on March 16, and between that date and the 31st a sum of £9,000 was paid. The County Council staff is now sending out demands to the other districts. These demands are for the second moiety of the 1921-22 rate.

EX-R.I.C. MAN'S DEATH.—A verdict of accidental death was returned at the resumed inquiry in Queenstown yesterday into the death of Thomas Cahill, an ex-member of the Royal Irish Constabulary, whose body was found on a railway line underneath a bridge from which he had fallen. Two railings had been displaced, and the theory was advanced that the man, who was nearly blind, pulled away the railings in the belief that he was pulling open his front door and that he then stepped through the hole.

BAD WEATHER OFF QUEENSTOWN.—Shipmasters arriving in Queenstown Harbour since Monday report bad weather in the North Atlantic. Early on Sunday morning a strong easterly wind sprang up, which during that night developed into a gale. Four large steamers which were off the Irish coast at the time put into Queenstown for shelter. The weather has now moderated considerably, but there is still a considerable sea running. Three of the steamers have resumed their voyages.

ALLEGED LOOTING OF RUINS.—Michael O'Connor, a labourer, of Ardfert, was committed for trial at Tralee yesterday on a charge of the larceny of timber, slate, and stone from the ruins of Ardfert Abbey. The accused man, it was stated, admitted having taken the material from the burned mansion. He saw others taking it, and thought he might as well have some.

QUEENSTOWN'S RATES REDUCED.—Queenstown Urban Council has reduced the township rates by 11d. to 8s. A recommendation of a sub-committee to reduce the labourers' wages from £3 10s. 4d. a week to £2 15s. has been adopted by the Council.

ULSTER.

MONAGHAN CREATES A WORLD "RECORD."—"The number of roads being maintained to the square mile in County Monaghan is greater than in any area in the whole world," said Mr. J. J. Hannigan, County Surveyor of Monaghan, at a meeting of the Monaghan Rural Council. "That might seem incredible," he continued, "but it is perfectly true. People coming in from other counties and from other parts are surprised at the number of roads we are maintaining." Mr. Hannigan said that the Free State Government might pass laws making the main and trunk roads a national charge. Probably the Government would pay one-half the cost of maintenance and the County Council the remainder. The main roads would be tarred, and that would effect a great saving. Farmers might object on the ground that tarred roads would sometimes be slippery, but that could be remedied by keeping the roads well sanded. Tarring would effect great economy by increasing the life of the roads and by reducing the amount now spent on scavenging.

BALLYBAY SHOOTING CHARGE.—At Ballybay, Co. Monaghan, Bridget Markey, Greagh, was formally charged in connection with the death of her aunt, who was killed by a shot discharged from a revolver which the accused girl was handling. At the inquest a verdict of accidentally killed was returned. The prisoner was discharged, the magistrate saying that she left the court without a stain on her character.

LABOURER'S FAMILY OF 16.—At the meeting of the Inishowen, Co. Donegal, Rural Council applications were received for the tenancy of a cottage. The Chairman said that he would support the application of a bona fide labourer with the largest family. One of the applicants said that he was the father of sixteen children. The Chairman—That settles it. You get the cottage.

CIVIL BILL OFFICER'S DIFFICULTIES.—At Donegal Quarter Sessions a solicitor reported that over fifty civil bills issued by one firm for ordinary debts had been returned by the civil bill officer, who said that his house had been raided and the copies of the civil bills taken away. The judge said that service by registered letter would be permitted.

PAUPER WITH AN "ESTATE."—It was reported to the Carndonagh, Co. Donegal, Hospital Committee that a man who had been in the workhouse for a year owned property in Londonderry and had over £700. It was decided to claim the cost of his maintenance.

SON SUCCEEDS FATHER.—Stranorlar, Co. Donegal, Rural Council has appointed John McNulty, of Stranorlar, sanitary sub-officer in succession to his father, who held the post for thirty-six years and who has retired on superannuation.

NORTHERN IRELAND.

PEACEABLE TYRONE.—Addressing the Grand Jurors at Omagh Crown Sessions yesterday Judge Linehan said that he was glad to be able to repeat to them the congratulations that he had offred them at the last Quarter Sessions on the restoration of peace and good order in County Tyrone. He found that good order prevailed everywhere, and he was glad to say that criminal injuries, which hitherto had occupied so much of his time at Quarter Sessions, had been reduced almost to vanishing point.

BELFAST WOMAN SERIOUSLY BURNED.—Mrs. Elizabeth Harvey, of 5 Elswick street, Belfast, was severely burned yesterday as the result of her clothing catching fire, and her husband, Sergeant John Harvey, Royal Ulster Constabulary, was burned on the hands while endeavouring to save her. Both were taken to hospital, where Mrs. Harvey's condition is regarded as serious. The sergeant's injuries are slight.

SEIZED GOODS "RESCUED."—In sentencing Mark Byrne, Ardaneer, Castlederg, to a month's imprisonment at Omagh Crown Sessions for "rescuing" a horse and cart which had been seized on account of a civil bill decree, Judge Linehan said that the prisoner had committed an act which struck at the efficiency of the County Court. If that sort of thing were tolerated the procedure of the County Court would be ineffectual and its decrees could not be enforced.

NURSES' SALARIES.—Nurses in Strabane District Hospital have applied to the Commissioner in charge of the Union affairs for a increase in their salaries. They say that they are the lowest paid of any district hospital nurses in the North. The Commissioner stated, in reply, that he would inquire into the salaries paid elsewhere, and again consider the application.

BIGAMIST'S EXCUSE.—At Belfast Commission yesterday William McKenzie was convicted of bigamy, sentence being deferred. The prisoner's excuse was that he "married" again in order to provide a home for his children, his real wife having deserted him, and gone to live with her mother.

FARMER-DISTILLERS. — Two farmers, Alexander McLaughlin and John McNaughten, of Cloughs, Cushendall, were each fined £100. reduced to £22 10s., at Cushendall Petty Sessions, for having in their possession a still and other appliances used in the manufacture of potheen.

AWARDS FOR INJURIES. — Belfast Claims Court yesterday awarded £600 to Andrew Pennington, an apprentice boilermaker, for injuries received through the explosion of a bomb during disturbances in the city. An award of £500 was made to Francis Cullen, painter, for personal injuries.

ROYAL ULSTER SHOW.—Schedules of the prizes to be offered for competition at the annual Show of the Royal Ulster Agricultural Society, to be held at Balmoral, Belfast, on May 24 and 25, are now in circulation. There are 210 classes and competitions, with prizes amounting to £3,647. With a view to facilitating exhibitors, especially those from a distance, the Council decided to hold the Show on two days, instead of three, as formerly. Entries of stock, implements, and manufactures close on Wednesday, April 18, and for poultry, dairy produce, and butter-making competitions on Wednesday, May 2. Prize schedules and entry forms can be obtained from Mr. Kenneth MacRae, Secretary, Balmoral, Belfast.

NEW SUPER MOTOR OIL!

SHELL CHEMISTS' GREAT ACHIEVEMENT

A remarkable advance in the theory and practice of lubrication has been made by Shell chemists, in collaboration with eminent motor engineers, resulting in the production of a lubricant of an entirely novel character which is markedly more efficient than any hitherto known.

With the new Shell motor oil, horse-power has been increased by as much as 10%, and NEW WORLD'S SPEED RECORDS have been established. The extra speed and horse-power so obtained have in actual practice been lost on reverting to other oils.

By using Shell motor oils in your engine, you benefit by this striking discovery, which has completely upset long-accepted theories of motor lubrication. Shell motor oils differ from all others on the market. They reduce friction losses to a minimum, and increase the power output of your engine to its maximum.

What did you think when you . . .

Didn't you, when you were a kiddie, sometimes wonder, with puckered brow, why so many nice-to-do things were not "good for you"?

So many things began with "Don't" or "You mustn't" . . . and, hateful thought, medicine time always began with "You must"—and ended with "It's good for you."

Remembering all this, you couldn't really be surprised if you found your Kiddies, in those strangely quiet moods, were ponderingsomething like this:—

"Just wait until I grow up—I'll do all the things I can't do now . . . and I won't never, never drink horrid medicine—and . . ."

. . . there will be very little need for medicine if you show your Kiddies the Andrews way now.

A now-and-then morning glass of Andrews bubbles so fascinatingly for them, and tastes so pleasant that Kiddies love it.

. . . and it corrects the little ills ere they grow to "medicine-size."

Just try it! Hear the delighted shrieks when you say "Come on, you little rogue, it's bubbling Andrews' time!"

And see how clear-eyed, fit and happy Andrews will keep them. You too!

Andrews Liver Salt

is the Family Friend—time-tried and trusted. It cools, purifies and sweetens the blood and helps Man, Woman and Child to become—and keep—fit.

Try Andrews in your household—keep a tin on a handy shelf, always. The 4 oz. size costs 9d.; the 8 oz. 1/4. Both sizes are sold everywhere.

Free State Finance.

The Parliament of the Free State will resume its deliberations to-day after the Easter recess. The Senate will discuss the Damage to Property (Compensation) Bill, to which Mr. Andrew Jameson will propose an important amendment; and in the Dail the Minister of Finance will be asked to find an early day for the discussion of the Free State estimates. Shortly before the House rose for Easter, a White Paper was issued by the Ministry of Finance, disclosing the general estimates for the coming year. Mr. Cosgrave asked the Dail for an immediate vote of £14,000,000 on account, and promised that he would make his Budget statement "within a week, if not sooner, after the reassembly of the House after Easter." We hope that he will announce his intentions to-day, because the public is seriously perturbed in regard to the financial outlook and has a right to learn exactly where it stands. It has accepted the new fiscal régime without protest, recognising the many preoccupations of the Free State Government, and hesitating in any way to increase the formidable difficulties which Mr. Cosgrave and his colleagues must overcome; but it is waiting with anxiety to hear the Government's Budget proposals. The uncertainty of the financial situation is proving to be a heavy handicap on commercial enterprise, and business men will not make their plans for the year until they know what taxes they will be required to pay.

The total expenditure for the year has been estimated at £46,696,664, and, doubtless, before next March, "supplementaries" will increase it to little short of £50,000,000. Of this huge sum the Army and compensation for criminal injuries will account for about £21,000,000. The remainder will be absorbed by the spending departments of State. The maximum revenue, according to the estimates, will be in the neighbourhood of £27,000,000. We may reckon, therefore, on a deficit of at least £20,000,000 in round figures, which the Free State Government will be forced to borrow, either from the British Government or on far less favourable terms in the open market. The interest on this sum, on a basis of five per cent., without amortisation charges, will amount to £1,000,000 per annum, which will add itself automatically to next year's, and every succeeding, Budget. It is doubtful that, on the present basis of taxation, Mr. Cosgrave will be able to realise his estimate of revenue. For that reason the public wants to know as soon as possible what, if any, new taxes the Government has decided to impose, and what arrangements it has made to reduce the costs of the spending departments. The effect of the new Customs duties is beginning already to make itself felt throughout the country, and the Free State taxpayer may be pardoned if he expresses keen concern about the future.

Mr. Stanley Baldwin will open the British Budget on next Monday, and it is possible that Mr. Cosgrave is waiting for his statement before the Free State Budget is revealed. Britain and Ireland still are bound together by economic ties which are far stronger than any Act of Union; and the prospect of lower taxes across the Channel—and, more particularly, across the frontier of Northern Ireland—must give the Free State Treasury pause. The British Chancellor has a surplus of over £100,000,000, and there is a general demand among the public for a lower income tax, together with a reduction in the tax on beer. If Mr. Baldwin should decide to comply with either of these popular demands, Mr. Cosgrave would find himself in a difficult position. A difference of sixpence or a shilling in the income tax between the Free State and Great Britain, to the disadvantage of the former, would have unpleasant results. Many residents in the Free State would transfer themselves to England or the Six Counties. The price of beer affects the great mass of the working classes, and Labour would have something to say if it were higher in Dublin than in Belfast. Again, there is the Corporations Profits Tax, which, in all probability, will be abolished by Mr. Baldwin. If it is retained by Mr. Cosgrave, firms in the Free State will be at an immediate disadvantage. His delay in the introduction of his Budget can be understood; but he would be unwise to prolong it further than absolute necessity demands.

The Land Conference.

The Free State Government's plans for the settlement of Irish land purchase have suffered a check in the failure of its preliminary conference. The Minister of Agriculture invited representatives of the rival interests to meet representatives of the Government in an effort to reach a measure of agreement. Since the conference lived only for two days, it is obvious that the differences between the tenants' claims and those of the landlords are so wide and deep that there is no immediate prospect of adjustment. The Government's three representatives were able and experienced men, and their failure to find a bridge is ominous of coming trouble. Certainly it indicates that the problem of settlement is by no means so simple as Mr. Hogan seemed to imply in his recent statement in Dail Eireann. No official report of the proceedings has been issued; but it is known that the conference dealt with two essential matters—the terms of purchase, presumably on a compulsory basis, and the question of arrears. It is improbable that on a subject so large and so elastic as the finance of land purchase a complete deadlock was reached at the end of two sessions; and we may suppose, therefore, that the conference came to grief on the question of arrears. The landlords of Limerick and Clare have suggested a scheme under which the payment of arrears would be stretched over a long period as a trifling addition to the purchase annuity. If this scheme was before the conference, and if the tenants' spokesmen rejected it, and any feasible modification of it, the Government appears to be faced with a demand for the virtual confiscation of all the rents which have been withheld since the beginning of 1920. Such a demand, of course, could be conceded by no Government which had any regard for elementary justice and for the rights of property. It is possible that, after a little reflection, both sides may be willing to renew the conference, and that its second attack on the whole problem may be more successful than the first. If, however, yesterday's failure was final, the Government must not shirk its responsibilities. It must contrive, and must carry to the Statute-book, its own plan of settlement, remembering always that the Free State's credit—in a double sense—and the social and economic welfare of the new Ireland will depend largely on that plan's wisdom and equity. In the meanwhile the landlords ought to assist the Government by furnishing it with a considered statement of their corporate views through the mouth of the Irish Landowners' Convention.

Russia's Ordeal.

If the determined effort of the anti-Christian Communists to grind the Russian people down to an outlook of purely animal materialism has not discouraged the well-meaning sentimentalists of Britain and America, a little incident reported in the Russian paper, Russkia Viesti, may help to enlighten them. It appears that the Odessa Government recently urged the shipyard workers at Nicolaieff to help in suppressing the troops of ferocious bandits that were plundering the local provision dépôts. The workers replied coldly that there were no bandits, but only starving work-people and villagers who, driven to despair by hunger, had robbed the food dépôts of the grain which ought to have been placed at their disposal, but was being gathered in the Odessa grain-elevators for sale abroad or to foster Communism in the Ruhr. The shipyard workers added that they were themselves hungry and that, unless their physical wants should receive early consideration, they might be driven to adopt the trade of brigand on their own account. We may be sure that the receipt of this intemperate message was the signal for the execution, on a large scale, of such shipyard workers as might be thought capable of carrying out the threat. The wretched Russian, however, has ceased to care whether he lives or dies. There is a Chinese proverb to the effect that, when one is being devoured by wild beasts, a point is reached quickly at which the possible intervention of third parties excites no enthusiasm. The Russian is to-day in that critical state, and the consoling reflections that are being bestowed upon him by the Western world cannot mitigate his agony.

International History.

It is pleasant to find two such doughty champions—the one of patriotism and the other of what we may call international fraternalism—as Mr. E. B. Osborn and Mr. H. G. Wells advancing their contending views on the public platform. The fact that the debate was undertaken in the cause of charity increased its intrinsic value. Mr. Wells maintained that history is taught wrongly because it is delivered to the immature mind in what he calls sealed packets. If the only history were universal history, and the balance were observed justly in regard to the relative importance of men and events, there would be no patriotism in the narrow sense, no racial pride, no desire to be international top dog, and none of the other things that Mr. Wells finds wrong with the world of to-day. Mr. Osborn took what might be called the common-sense view. Nations always have fought and always will fight; and in the struggle some will survive and some will perish. If any particular nation is to survive, it must teach the young, through history, to appreciate survival and to honour those who have promoted ideals that will make continued survival a comparatively easy business. If we were asked to sit in judgment on the merits of these competing arguments, we should award the palm in all likelihood to Mr. Osborn—not because his insight is better than that of Mr. Wells, but because his entirely correct doctrines can be applied, while Mr. Wells's equally correct doctrines cannot be applied. Even our adult universalists, lacking Mr. Wells's plastic outlook, generally come to see nothing good in their own country and all the virtues in their country's enemies.

PUNCHESTOWN.

FINE WEATHER AND GOOD SPORT.

Beautiful weather, with a clear sky and plenty of sunshine, favoured the second day of the Punchestown Races. The rain of the previous night appeared to have little effect, and many people walked to distant parts of the course to witness the negotiation of some of the famous jumps.

The company present was not as numerous as on the first day, and there were a few notable absentees. The Governor-General, Mr. T. M. Healy, with several members of his staff, and Mr. Cosgrave, were again present, and took much interest in the racing.

Among those noticed in the Kildare Hunt Enclosure were the Earl of Enniskillen, the Earl of Mayo, Viscountess Powerscourt, the Hon. Doreen Wingfield, Lord HolmPatrick and the Hon. Sybil Hamilton, Lady Eva Forbes, Mr. and Lady Edina Ainsworth, the Hon. Lady McCalmont, Major and Lady Helen McCalmont, Sir Walter and Lady Nugent, Sir John Arnott, Captain L. ## A GREAT STAGE ARTIST.

Leon Bakst's Designs.

(BY LENNOX ROBINSON.)

It was June, it was 1913—before the war; it was Drury lane, with G.B.S. in a box shocked by the nudity of "Joseph," and George Moore in an opposite box, and a great deal of bare flesh and diamonds with him, the première of Joseph, with its composer, Richard Strauss, conducting, and Carneval, with Karsavina and Nijinsky in it, and Le Sacre du Printemps, with the gallery half hissing and cat-calling, half tumultuously applauding, and Petrouchka with Fokine, and Daphnis and Chloe—most beautiful of all ballets, and Prince Igor with Chaliapine, and Der Rosenkavalier—I suppose all this can't have happened together, but, looking back, they all—operas and ballets—seem blended into one intoxicating hot night in London.

The nights are cooler and greyer now, Nijinsky has danced himself to dust, leaped his last leap, and landed in infinity; Stravinsky is a back number, and Sir Thomas Beecham a bankrupt. Talking of these old pre-war days is like an old man babbling of his youth, and I must be silent, remembering an old cousin whom I patiently listened to when I was a boy while he endlessly recalled the glories of the Italian opera in Cork in the 'seventies and 'eighties.

But, turning the pages of this beautiful book, fingering old programmes, brings it all back irresistibly. Can anything ever again be as good, as entirely satisfying? The poignant beauty of Les Sylphides, Nijinsky as "Harlequin," dancing with Karsavina against a Ricketts-blue curtain?

Perhaps so, for here is Leon Bakst, no longer ago than 1921, designing the dresses for the ballet of The Sleeping Princess, which I have heard described as the most beautiful thing ever presented by the Russian ballet. I saw only one scene of it which was revived a year later in Paris. It seemed to me enchanting, and the dresses entirely beautiful, and here in this gorgeous book are fifty-five examples of them in colour. They are marvels of imagination, and yet never outré and extravagant. There is a tang of reality about every one of them; of their own fantastic world they are, to the highest degree, realistic. They are, the most of them, complicated and intricate; there is an absence of the easy theory that broad effects carry best on the stage, on the contrary, Leon Bakst pays the most minute attention to detail; the dresses are built up architecturally—Gothic rather than Romanesque, one might say—it is interesting to note, for instance, how the great cuffs balance the trousers or the heavy skirt, and how the head-dress complements the idea of the boots. Bakst sees costume wonderfully as a whole; everything in it matters to him down to the bow on the shoe, the buckle on the belt; nothing is left to chance, nothing will "do," everything has got to be done creatively by sheer mental effort of his genius. For unquestionably he is a genius, a great artist of the stage, a subtle and supreme colourist. One remembers his cold tones in "Daphnis and Chloe," which seemed the essence of that early morning story, and the hot, barbaric red of his Prince Igor—the decadence of Cleopatre. Something of all these things this book brings back to the memory, but so wanting warm flesh beneath these lovely clothes, so wanting rhythm, and music and light.

Apart from its beauty, this ballet is of high historic interest. Before it the music for the ballets had been, in most cases, trivial and uninteresting, but in the early nineties Tchaikovsky set himself deliberately and patiently to write music for this medium, putting himself humbly at the service of the ballet-master. The result was an astonishing success, and with it he lifted the ballet to the notice of serious composers. Since then it has attracted to its service the aristocrats of the arts of decoration and music, and among Tchaikovsky's successors are Richard Strauss and Stravinsky.

There may be an art that thrives on poverty, that gains inspiration from bread and tea eaten in a second-floor back, but it is not the art of the stage; it is assuredly not the art of the ballet. That art, as its history shows—and the preface to this book is of uncommon interest—needs an assured income, wine and meat, a long training, technical to the last degree; a short life on the stage, a long, pensioned old age. And so we are never very likely to see it in Ireland. Ireland has dancing in its blood, but, until it is willing to pay for these things, in its blood it must remain, and its only outlet must be the céilidhe and The Dansant. We can only call the tune by paying the piper, and we have got soon seriously to consider whether there are enough people in this country to call with any effect for a tune in any of the arts. Our aristocracy never cared greatly—or if they did had their box in Covent Garden rather than their stall in the Abbey Theatre, and it is difficult to recall more than one or two men grown rich from trade whose imaginations have risen above the ideals of Horseback Hall, the churches are unwillingly and with difficulty being weaned from Munich glass and pitch-pine, and the middle-class seems entirely satisfied with the cinema and the music hall. It seems hardly worth while to complain; it is better probably to save one's breath and one's shillings and buy Leon Bakst's book and a ticket for London or Paris next time the Russian ballet is billed to appear there.

NEW LONDON PLAY.

"ANNA CHRISTIE" AT THE STRAND THEATRE.

FROM OUR DRAMATIC CRITIC.
LONDON, Wednesday.

Short, one-act plays of Mr. Eugene O'Neill have been seen on the London stage recently, but the first full three-act play by this American author was presented last night.

"Anna Christie" is rightly considered Mr. O'Neill's finest play. It is a remarkable piece of work, and was wonderfully acted. The whole atmosphere reeks of the sea. It tells the story of an old seaman's daughter, who, during his absence abroad, has been forced into becoming a girl of no character. After many years and a long illness, she visits the drunken Swedish skipper, who is her father, and, as he knows nothing of her life, she has to pretend to be a good girl.

Anna gradually realises what it means to live purely. The simplicity of her life on the barge and her honest love for an Irish stoker completely reform her. Circumstances, however, compel her to reveal the truth about her past to her father and her lover, and the Irishman, after bitterly cursing and leaving the girl, finds his love too strong to resist, and finally returns.

Miss Pauline Lord—an American actress—playing Anna Christie, held the audience spellbound from start to finish. She portrayed the character of Anna with the utmost subtlety. She has a peculiarly hoarse voice that is very impressive, and her faint, elusive smile is reminiscent of Lilian Gish. In the big scene where she reveals herself her quivering, passionate protest carries all before it. She is the most wonderful of Mr. C. B. Cochran's discoveries.

Mr. George Marrion, another American, plays the father with a maudlin sort of sincerity and a fine sense of the character. Mr. Frank Shannon, as the Irish stoker, acted with great power, and managed to convey the brutish charm of the man.

Miss Mildred Beverly played an old woman of the streets very cleverly, indeed. It was a finished study of a difficult character.

"Anna Christie" is a magnificent play, sordid and painful, but revealing vivid insight into wharfside life. All the characters live; there is nothing artificial about any of them. Mr. Cochran, who is responsible for the production, is to be congratulated on giving the London public a chance to see an unusually clever play.

LONDON LETTER.

THE GOVERNMENT'S DEFEAT.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

As is generally the case when a Government with a good working majority sustains an unexpected defeat, last night's incident was due to a chapter of accidents. In the first place, it is unusual for a division to take place on the motion, "That the Speaker do now leave the Chair," the Opposition being generally as anxious as the Government to get to the business of supply. At the same time, I cannot endorse Sir F. Banbury's opinion that a snap division of this kind is not "playing the game." If my memory serves me, he himself has been concerned in more than one incident of a similar, if not quite identical, kind—notably, when he engineered the defeat of Mr. Asquith's Government on a financial resolution of the Home Rule Bill.

Unionists Against the Government.

Secondly, the subject of the debate was one which aroused a good deal of hostile feeling, not confined to the regular Opposition. No fewer than four Unionists voted against the Government, holding that their pledges to the ex-Service men compelled them to do so; and, in addition, several National Liberals, who had generally supported Ministers, joined the "Wee Frees" in the Division Lobby on this occasion.

Major Boyd-Carpenter.

It was not altogether fortunate, moreover, that the Government defence was left to the Secretary of the Treasury. Major Boyd-Carpenter is able and sincere, but he has a rather aggressive style, and has not yet acquired the art—so necessary for a Minister—of couching a refusal in sympathetic language. His speech last night certainly put up the backs of several members.

The Real Responsibility.

The real responsibility must rest with the Government Whips. Now that there is a keen and vigilant Opposition, they ought always to keep a substantial majority in the House, no matter how little prospect there may be of a division. Last night they evidently gave dinner-leave to too many of the Ministerialists. They had been told to return at 9.30, but the division took place ten minutes earlier before they returned.

A Useful Stop-Gap.

Even so, the situation could have been saved if the Whips had realised the danger, and put up a long-winded orator to speak against time. In former Parliaments Sir Frederick Banbury often stopped into the breach, and, like Gratiano, spoke an infinite deal of nothing to save his party from danger. But last night Sir Frederick was not in the House, and there was, apparently, no one in reserve to take his place.

The Chief Whip.

It would not surprise me very much if there were shortly a change in the Whips' Department. Colonel Leslie Wilson is a very charming man, but I doubt if he wields quite enough authority over the rank and file. The ideal Chief Whip requires to have a hand of iron, even though he may, and should, conceal it under a velvet glove. I do not think last night's incident would have occurred under Lord Edmund Talbot (now Lord FitzAlan), or the late Sir Alexander Acland-Hood (afterwards Lord St. Audries), or Akers-Douglas (now Lord Chilston).

Colonel Wilson has the additional drawback of not being persona grata with the Chamberlainite section of the Unionists. They have not yet forgiven him for his rather sudden discovery last autumn that he could no longer support the Coalition, and some of them, I fancy, are not inclined to pay much heed to his warnings as to the necessity of steady attendance at the House. His transference to some other post in the Government might help to remove their rather apathetic attitude towards the present Administration.

The Royal Wedding.

The Duke of York and his bride-elect are now engaged in the unromantic formalities connected with the documents relating to the marriage which will be completed before the marriage takes place. Following the usual custom, life insurance policies to a considerable amount will be settled upon Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon. The Civil List income of £25,000 a year to which the Duke becomes entitled on his marriage, will be unaffected by the documents now being prepared for signature, as it is an income during his lifetime only.

Empire Communication.

The question of an airship service between this country and the Dominions will probably be discussed at the Economic Conference in October. There are many who believe that the time is ripe for the inauguration of such a link between the widespread portions of the Empire. The recommendation of a committee of business men, that the Government should grant a subsidy of one million pounds, spread over a period of ten years, to enable British air transport to carry on, was favourably received by the Cabinet, and would probably have been carried; but such a scheme could not come into operation this year, and in the meantime more will be heard of the Empire airship plan.

A Comprehensive Programme.

It is quite possible that a comprehensive programme, including both the aeroplane services from London and Manchester to various Continental countries, and the airship service to the Dominions, may come up for serious consideration towards the end of the year. With a view to enlightening the taxpayer as to how his money would be spent should the Government grant a subsidy, Major-General Sir W. Sefton Brancker, who, since leaving the Air Ministry, has been associated with commercial aviation, last night delivered an address by wireless telephone, explaining the need for State assistance, in order to put air transport on a stable basis, and emphasising the value of the machines, equipment and personnel as a reserve for the Royal Air Force in time of emergency. The latter aspect is one which cannot be overlooked.

THE NEW LAW COURTS.

FIRST SITTING OF JUDGES AT DUBLIN CASTLE.

The High Courts opened for the Easter sittings in their new location at Dublin Castle yesterday. A good deal of interest in the occasion was evinced by the public. There was a fairly large attendance of the Bar and members of the solicitors' profession.

The following judges attended, some of them wearing their full dress and robes:—The Lord Chief Justice, the Master of the Rolls, Lord Justice Ronan, Lord Justice O'Connor, Mr. Justice Dodd, Mr. Justice Pim, and Mr. Justice Samuels.

Mr. Justice Powell, who has been indisposed for some time, was not present. Under his doctor's orders, he has gone to the South of France, where he will probably have to remain for some little time. Practitioners in the Courts, as well as his colleagues, were glad to learn that he is already much improved in health, as the result of his sojourn.

A meeting of Benchers was held before the judges went to their various courts. Subsequently a number of pressing applications were heard, but no case of any length was entered upon. On all sides satisfaction was expressed at the change of venue from the King's Inns to the more commodious and suitable quarters.

LIAM LYNCH'S LAST REQUEST.

FUNERAL AT FERMOY TO-DAY.

FULL STORY OF ATTACK IN MOUNTAINS.

SUPPOSED PEACE MEETING.

The full story of how Mr. Liam Lynch met his death reached Dublin last night, in a message from our Special Correspondent at Clonmel, which is printed below.

According to one report, he intended to be present at a meeting in Tipperary, at which Mr. de Valera, Mr. Austin Stack, and other leaders were to discuss the consideration of the peace proposals put forward by the Archbishop of Cashel.

At an inquest held in Clonmel yesterday the jury found that Liam Lynch had been shot by National soldiers in the execution of their duty.

Mr. Lynch's remains were handed over to his brother last evening for burial at Fermoy to-day, beside a man named Fitzgerald—this being in accordance with his last request to General Prout.

General Prout, who was in charge of the military operation, served in the American Expeditionary Force in France, and retired with the rank of captain.

LIAM LYNCH FOUND SERIOUSLY WOUNDED.

From Our Special Correspondent.

CLONMEL, Wednesday.

From the particulars now to hand of the mountain fight in which Liam Lynch was captured, it is clear that the troops surprised an important conference of the Republican leaders.

The National forces are scouring the surrounding country for the five or six other leaders who had been taking part in the deliberations.

From General Prout I learnt to-day the full story of the military operations which led to the capture of Liam Lynch.

Crohan West, where the five or six leaders had met, was suited in every way for such a conference. The slopes of the mountain are thickly covered with gorse, and rocky ravines and belts of trees make the ascent a tiresome one for troops. The Republican leaders had gathered on the highest slope of the mountain—a height of 1,600 feet.

As early as Sunday it was known that several important leaders had made their appearance in the district. Starting on Sunday night, General Prout himself visited some of the principal National posts in the outlying country. Plans were made for an elaborate sweep of the entire district between County Waterford on one side and Clonmel and Cahir on the other.

By Monday night arrangements had been made for the co-operation of all posts in a systematic search of a huge area, in the south part of which the Republican leaders were known to be located.

THE UNEXPECTED.

Swiftly and unexpectedly the troops embarked on the operation. At an early hour on Monday morning parties of military left Cahir, Clogheen, Fethard, Cappoquin, Dungarvan, Kilmacthomas, Rathgormack, and Clonmel to push their way inwards on the territory which divided them.

To the Clogheen troops fell the lot of sweeping Crohan West on their journey.

The mountain was between Newcastle and Mount Melleray, formnig part of the Knockmealdown range. It was ten o'clock on Tuesday morning when the Clogheen column began the ascent of the northern slopes of the mountain. The men marched in extended formation, taking full advantage of the cover offered by the gorse and crags.

The morning was dull, with heavy clouds overhead, as the column of forty soldiers proceeded up the slope, but within half an hour of beginning the climb their advance became known to the little party gathered near the top of the mountain. The silence of the morning was broken suddenly by an outburst of Thompson-gun fire, which ceased almost immediately afterwards, to be followed by rifle and revolver fire.

The soldiers had by this time approached within easy range of their quarry. The exchange of fire, which followed, was of brief duration. The soldiers pushed forward under fire, and within a short time gained the upper slope.

LIAM LYNCH WOUNDED.

Lying face upwards in a thick growth of mountain shrubbery, they found a young man, who seemed dangerously wounded. His clothes were thickly stained with blood, and he was bleeding from the lower portion of the body. He was recognised by members of the military party as Mr. Lynch. He was still quite conscious, but spoke little. He was carried down the mountain by the soldiers.

Shortly afterwards General Prout arrived, and had the wounded man taken to Newcastle. The General then went back to Clonmel, and returned with the ambulance and a doctor. It was with some difficulty that the dying man was transferred across the broken bridge at Newcastle to the waiting ambulance, after having been first attended to by a doctor.

From the first it was apparent that there was but little chance of his recovery, and though everything possible was done for him in the local hospital, he died last night.

LAST REQUEST GRANTED.

Before he died, Mr. Liam Lynch called General Prout to his bedside, and expressed a desire that he should be buried beside a man named Fitzgerald at Fermoy.

His last request is to be granted. This evening the remains were given over by General Prout to Mr. Lynch's brother; to-morrow (Thursday) they will be buried at Fermoy.

I had an interview with one of the party of soldiers who captured the Republican Chief of Staff, and elicited some further details regarding the engagement. Mr. Lynch, while badly wounded, was able to speak when addressed by his captors. No arms were found on him, but some distance from where he lay some overcoats and hats were discovered. They evidently had been discarded hurriedly by some of his colleagues before they took to flight.

It is rumoured that articles of clothing have been recognised as belonging to Mr. de Valera's wardrobe. On the other hand, it is said that a hat which has been found is believed to have been worn once by Dan Breen.

A National Army officer, who was acquainted with both Republican leaders, assures me that he can vouch for the accuracy of the statements.

The affair has caused considerable excitement in Clonmel.

THE INQUEST.

LIAM LYNCH'S LAST REQUEST.

Our Clonmel Correspondent telegraphs that yesterday afternoon Dr. Stokes, Deputy-Coroner, held an inquest on the remains of Mr. Liam Lynch, at Clonmel Union Board-room.

The body, which lay coffined in the mortuary, was viewed by the jury.

The proceedings were brief and formal.

General Prout represented the authorities, and Inspector Kilroy the Civic Guard.

A military witness identified the body, and said that Liam Lynch was aged about 33 or 34 years, unmarried, and a native of Anglesborough, County Limerick. The witness continued—I believe he was Chief of Staff of the Irregulars. I knew him to be always actively engaged in operations against the Government forces.

The Coroner—If it is the wish of the jury, General Prout will call witnesses who were present at the time that the deceased was wounded.

The Foreman—I think that would be the proper course.

A military witness deposed—I was in charge of a column operating in Crohane Mountain, south-west of Clogheen, at about 10 a.m. yesterday (Tuesday). Fire was opened on us by a number of Irregulars. We returned the fire, and the deceased was wounded.

How long did the firing last?

Witness—About twenty minutes or half-an-hour. The column advanced under fire, and the Irregulars retreated, and we found the deceased lying on the mountain. He was lying on his back, face upwards, and appeared to be badly wounded. One of my party bandaged up his wounds, and I sent for a priest and a doctor. We took him down from the mountain to Newcastle, where he was attended to by a priest and Dr. Power, Ardfinane, who said that the dressing had been very well done. Dr. Dalton soon arrived with a Red Cross ambulance. In conversation with me, the deceased asked that he should be buried in Fermoy, along with Fitzgerald, and he told me he was Liam Lynch.

General Prout said that the military authorities would see to that.

Mr. Stapleton—Had the wounded man arms on him? No.

Dr. Redmond Dalton, Military Medical Officer, stated that he went out on Tuesday with an ambulance to Newcastle. In a house there he found the wounded man, Liam Lynch. There were two bullet wounds in the body—one entrance wound being somewhat behind and to the right between the lower border of the ribs and the hip. The exit wound was at about the same level on the left side. There was a fair amount of external and a considerable amount of internal hemorrhage, and he was suffering very severely from shock. After consultation with the doctor who was attending the patient, they decided that it was best that he should be removed to Clonmel. They brought him back in an ambulance to Clonmel, arriving at about 6 o'clock at the military ward of St. Joseph's Hospital. The patient was very low all the time, and died shortly before 9 o'clock. Death, in his opinion, was due to shock and hemorrhage, following the wounds described.

The Coroner asked the jury whether they required any further evidence. He said that the body had been identified as that of Liam Lynch, who, according to the evidence before them, was one of a party of irregulars who opened fire on the troops, and was fatally wounded in the return fire.

The jury considered the evidence before them sufficient, and after a brief consultation, found that death was due to shock and hemorrhage, following bullet wounds caused by a party of the National Army in the execution of their duty. They wished to add a vote of sympathy with the relatives of Liam Lynch.

The Coroner joined in the expression of sympathy.

A juror, Mr. Smith, said that the jury would like to know if the last wish of Liam Lynch, that he should be buried in Fermoy, would be carried out.

The Coroner said that General Prout had given an assurance as to that already.

WAS THERE A PEACE MEETING?

A CAPTURED COAT AND HAT.

Another Special Correspondent, writing from Clonmel, says:—The general opinion is that the death of Liam Lynch will have a profound effect on the whole anti-Government campaign throughout the Free State area.

Certain leaders of the Republicans are known to have taken part in recent efforts to make peace, but of such efforts Liam Lynch strongly disapproved. In the captured correspondence (published some days ago) it was intimated that a meeting of leaders would be held to take an important decision, and there is little doubt that it was in connection with this meeting that Mr. Lynch was in the district where he met his death.

It is generally believed, though there is no official confirmation, that Mr. de Valera, Mr. Dan Breen, and other leaders were also there. The meeting was to have included all heads of the "Army," as well as Mr. de Valera and Mr. Austin Stack, representing the "Government."

YOU HAVEN'T GOT "DEV."

As to Mr. de Valera, it is stated that Mr. Lynch, when captured by the soldiers, observed—"Well, you haven't got 'Dev.' anyhow." by which he is understood to have meant that Mr. de Valera had made good his escape.

The evidence as regards the presence of Dan Breen, if negative, is not quite unamusing. It appears that in the farm-house where the leaders were surprised were found a coat which was recognised as one usually worn by Breen. There was also a hat, so large, that only Dan Breen's head could have filled it.

THE HARTY PROPOSALS.

It is rumoured here that if the meeting, which was to have considered Archbishop Harty's peace scheme, had taken place it would have approved the scheme.

General Prout, who was in charge of the operations, is of American birth. He has been engaged in the Kilkenny-Waterford area since the Four Courts fight, and led the troops from Waterford to Clonmel and Cahir last summer. He was in the "Rainbow" Division of the American Army, one of the first American Divisions to land in France, and was attached to the 165th Regiment of New York. When the Great War ended, he was a captain, and for a time had commanded a battalion.

WEATHER IN FRANCE.

WARM IN PARIS; SNOW AND LIGHTNING IN PROVINCES.

PARIS, Wednesday.

While Paris is still enjoying moderately warm and sunny weather, reports of snow and storms come from the provinces.

A heavy fall of snow has fallen on the Chicula Plateau, in Upper Ariége, interrupting communication, and postmen have been obliged to return with their letters undelivered. Two villages were completely snowbound for three days.

Snow is also reported from Lille, as are storms from L'Orient.

At Charolles four oxen yoked to a plough were killed by lightning, and a farmer and his son, who were guiding the plough, received violent shocks. In the Department of Mayenne a farm hand was killed by lightning.—(Reuter.)

LAND CONFERENCE FAILS

AFTER ABOUT TWO HOURS' DISCUSSION.

NO PROSPECT OF AGREEMENT.

The conference of representatives of the Free State Government, landlords, and unpurchased tenants, which was called by the Minister for Agriculture to discuss and report on (1) arrears of rent, and (2) purchase price, in connection with the Land Bill which it is the intention of the Minister to introduce into the Dail, held its second meeting yesterday at the offices of the Land Commission, 24 Upper Merrion street, Dublin. After discussing the matters at issue for a couple of hours, the members of the conference failed to reach an agreement. No official statement has been issued, but it is understood that there will be no further meetings.

At the opening of the conference on Tuesday a good deal of time was occupied in the arrangement of preliminaries, but at yesterday's sitting the parties concerned settled down to business.

It is understood that the representatives appointed by the tenants and the landlords attended yesterday's conference with the demands of their respective parties embodied in concrete programmes.

During the past two years many of the tenants have refused to pay rents with, it is believed, the object of forcing legislation on the subject of land purchase. Whether the disagreement arose from a demand that these arrears should be cleared up before further progress could be made towards completing land purchase has not transpired. Whatever the cause of the breakdown, there seems to have been no possibility of an agreement being reached.

All the members were present at yesterday's conference, together with the Minister of Agriculture (Mr. P. J. Hogan).

The landlords' representatives were:—Lord Cloncurry, Right Hon. George F. Stewart, and Mr. Henry Franks, M.A., Woodbrook, Mountrath. The tenants' representatives were:—Mr. Denis J. Gorey (Kilkenny), Mr. P. F. Baxter (Cavan), and Mr. W. Nunan (Glanworth, Co. Cork). The Government representatives were:—Mr. Gerald FitzGibbon, K.C.; Mr. Michael J. O'Connor, solicitor, Wexford; and Mr. John Collins (formerly a farmer in West Cork).

The Secretary was Mr. Francis J. Duff.

RUSSIAN PIRACY.

SEIZURE OF A BRITISH TRAWLER.

In the House of Commons yesterday,

Mr. Ronald McNeill, in reply to Viscount Curzon, said that no report had yet been received from Moscow in regard to the arrested British fishermen at Murmansk. According to a telegram from the master to the owners the men were being well treated.

Viscount Curzon—How long is the Government going to tolerate this state of affairs? Is it aware that, according to our maritime law, the Soviet Government has committed an act of piracy on the high seas towards British workingmen

Mr. McNeill said that his noble friend would appreciate that it was impossible for the Government to take drastic action without knowing exactly and officially what had happened.

NEW PORT AT VENICE.

COMPLETION OF MILLION POUND SCHEME.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
From Our Own Correspondent.

ROME, Wednesday.

The Italian Government has just completed the building of a modern port for Venice at a cost of a million sterling.

The entrance canal to the new port is three miles long, and will accommodate large steamers. The harbour works extend over an area of two and one half square miles, with seven miles of wharves, equipped with the most modern machinery for loading and unloading vessels.

Fronting the main port are two industrial zones, each covering an area of two square miles.

The new port also has ample rail facilities, and a garden city for 30,000 persons. This port, to be known as Porto Marghera, will be the outlet of a great system of inland navigation, now in course of construction, which will connect Milan and other important industrial centres of Lombardy and Venetia with the sea.

The plans for the new port were drawn up and signed in 1917, in spite of the war, and a huge State deficit. The work was started in the spring of 1919.

SYDNEY, Wednesday.

It is reported that the outlook in the Newcastle coalfields is very black.

MONT BLANC TUNNEL.

RUMOURED REVIVAL OF GIGANTIC SCHEME.

An Exchange Geneva telegram states that the proposal to tunnel Mont Blanc appears to have been revived, the paper Savoie saying that it may be regarded as definitely decided upon.

The plan, which would directly unite France and Italy, would involve the construction of fifteen tunnels and fourteen bridges. Work on the scheme, it is calculated, would take five years to complete.

OLYMPIC GAMES.

POPE'S SYMPATHY WITH WORLD MOVEMENT.

ROME, Wednesday.

The Pope has received in audience the International Olympic Committee, which is meeting here to make arrangements for the development of Olympic Games throughout the world.

His Holiness congratulated the Committee on its endeavours in favour of classic sports, which, he said, would contribute to bring the different countries of the world closer together. Civilisation could only gain from clean and moral sports.—(Reuter.)

A Washington telegram says:—The American Debt Funding Commission has been summoned to meet on Monday in order to study further the British debt settlement plan, which is now approaching completion.

Reuter's Simla Correspondent telegraphed yesterday:—Lord Reading has shot four tigers in the Gwalior jungles. He is returning to Simla on Friday.

NEW REPARATION RUMOURS.

GERMANY EXPECTED TO MAKE AN OFFER.

TIRED OF PASSIVE ATTITUDE.

BRITISH INSPIRATION SUGGESTED.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
From Our Own Correspondent.

BERLIN, Wednesday.

Germany will make a definite and concrete offer to France within the next few days, I am informed in the highest quarters. The Reichstag will listen to the long-delayed speech of the Foreign Minister, Herr von Rosenberg, which will be based on the so-called Loucheur plan, and will comprise what amounts to a new set of German proposals.

The German Party leaders' information and the news of London opinion has made a deep impression on the Cuno Cabinet. It is now realised that Germany must take the initiative, instead of maintaining a passive attitude, if she wishes to gain the sympathy of the world. The Rosenberg offer will be the first definite German proposition since the Bergmann proposals in January, which were not heard by the Paris Conference.

Highest authorities in Berlin state that the new proposals will go much further than those that Herr Bergmann took to Paris in January. It is believed here that Britain has agreed to advance long-term credits for the purchase of raw materials to the amount of the reparations due to Britain, leaving the cash available from the internal loan entirely at the disposal of France, Belgium, and the smaller Powers.

The German offer will not exceed thirty billion gold marks, but it will conform very closely to that sum on an actual cash basis of direct payments. This will, it is believed, insure France the twenty-six billion she demands, or most of it.

The Industrialists will back the proposition by offering their property as security for a loan.

British pressure is greatly responsible for the approaching declaration, it is asserted. Great Britain fears a French political hegemony on the Continent, and will support any reasonable German offer to the best of her ability, so Berlin believes.

FRIENDLY NEUTRALITY.

BRITISH POLICY UNCHANGED.

In the House of Commons yesterday,

Mr. Becker asked the Prime Minister if, as a consequence of the conversations with M. Loucheur, the Government contemplate abandoning the policy of friendly neutrality towards France, and giving her absolute support in her action against Germany on the Ruhr?

Mr. Baldwin—The answer is in the negative.

FRANCE'S INTENTIONS.

M. POINCARE TO MAKE A STATEMENT.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
From Our Own Correspondent.

PARIS, Wednesday.

M. Poincaré is to preside on Sunday at Dunkirk at the unveiling of a memorial to the men of the town who fell in the war, and it is generally expected that he will deliver an important speech dealing with the occupation of the Ruhr and setting forth once more the intentions of his Government.

M. Loucheur is expected to be present in his capacity as Deputy for the Nord, and it is stated variously in the Press that the French Premier will, and will not, extend his statement to deal with the various interpretations of the ex-Minister's recent mission in London.

It is safe to say that that will depend in some measure upon the course of the interviews which M. Poincaré will have here in Paris on Friday and Saturday next with M. Theunis and M. Jaspar, the Belgian Premier and Minister of Foreign Affairs. At these interviews it is possible, but not at all certain, that M. Loucheur will be invited to be present, in order that the Belgian Ministers may have the fullest information before them on the subject of his conversations in London.

My information is that from whatever quarter opposition to the new course indicated by M. Loucheur's journey may come, it is not likely to be from Brussels, and I believe that the alarm stated to have been caused there by the reports of his interviews had little foundation in fact.

M. Theunis and M. Jaspar have throughout both desired as early a return as possible of Great Britain to the Councils of her Allies, and there is evidence, despite statements to the contrary, that they were informed in good time of the new demarche.

In quarters, both in Brussels and in Paris, where a hopeful view was taken of its development, it was anticipated that M. Loucheur might make a second journey to London, but present signs do not encourage this. Meanwhile, M. Poincaré continues to be the object of attacks by his political opponents, M. Tardieu this morning strongly criticising him for his association with M. Loucheur.

MORE SABOTAGE.

TOWN FINED AND "CURFEW" IMPOSED.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
From Our Own Correspondent.

COLOGNE, Wednesday.

A serious attempt to destroy French railway communications is reported to-day from Buer. At 5.30 this morning an explosion badly damaged a bridge on the line between Buer and Hassel, a section used by French military trains. Precise details of the damage are not yet known, but the French have closed the line, which is strongly guarded.

In the course of the day the magistrate of Buer was informed that the town would be fined fifty million marks, and that "curfew" regulations would be imposed from to-night, all traffic being stopped between 8 p.m. and 6 a.m.

A fine of seventy-five million marks, payable at once, has been imposed on the town of Duisburg, as a reprisal for acts of sabotage.

The gas supply of the town of Kasstropp has been cut off. The French authorities have, therefore, warned the Mayor that if the lighting is not restored immediately, the inhabitants will be ordered to remain indoors between the hours of 8 p.m. and 5 a.m.

A message from a French source in Dusseldorf says that a French sentry, guarding the bridge at a point where the Essen to Karnap road crosses the Rhine-Heine Canal, was attacked by men accompanied by dogs. A patrol pursued the assailants and arrested one of them.

PRIEST'S TRIAL POSTPONED.

SOVIET LEADERS QUARRELLING.

RESULT OF FOREIGN PROTESTS.

RIGA, Wednesday.

Notwithstanding the elaborate preparations of the Soviet Government for the trial of the Patriarch Tikhon, which was to open to-day, it was announced this morning that the trial had been postponed.

Inquiries in Communist circles elicited the information that the decision to put off the trial followed on heated discussions among the Soviet leaders. So-called Moderates, alarmed by the storm which the recent persecution of the Churches raised in foreign countries, demanded the cancellation of the trial, but the Extremists stubbornly insisted that it should be proceeded with, arguing the impossibility of surrender to the demands of the capitalist Powers.

Eventually, failing an agreement, the trial was postponed indefinitely. Discussions are still going on.

The indictment charges the Patriarch with maintaining relations with foreign States, with refusing to surrender Church treasures to the Soviet authorities, and with condemning the Soviet régime, whose leaders, it is declared, were denounced by the Patriarch as bandits and robbers.

The indictment adds that the Patriarch has admitted his guilt.

The tribunal, it was arranged, should be Galkin, as President, and Krylenko, as prosecutor, as in the case of the trial of the Archbishop Cieplak.

According to the Soviet Press, the so-called All-Russian Ecclesiastical Convention intends to submit the Patriarch to an ecclesiastical trial on Sunday.—(Reuter.)

"John McGuire, Cross Cong, Co. Galway, was charged before a military tribunal with having possession of a rifle and ammunition, at Cluide, on 21st February, 1923, without proper authority.

"Martin Moylan, Farmerstown, Annaghdown, Co. Galway, was charged before a military tribunal with having possession of a rifle and ammunition, at Cluide, on 21st February, 1923, without proper authority.

"All six prisoners were found guilty.

"The findings were confirmed in each case, and the prisoners were sentenced to death.

"The executions were duly carried out at Tuam to-day at 8 a.m."

The six men executed yesterday make a total of 73 executed by the Irish Free State authorities within the past few months.

LATE EX-KAISERIN.

MEMORIAL SERVICE IN BERLIN.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
From Our Own Correspondent.

BERLIN, Wednesday.

"Junker" Germany mourned to-day in befitting fashion the former Kaiserin, the second anniversary of whose death it is. Scores of Princes and Princesses, former Court officials, Generals and Admirals attended a Memorial Service at Potsdam, and the sermon was preached by Dr. Vogel, the former Imperial Chaplain, who officiated at the Kaiser's second marriage at Doorn last November. Among hundreds of wreaths was one of yellow roses from the ex-Kaiser and his wife, Princess Hermine.

LUXOR TREASURES.

£32,000 SCHEME FOR MUSEUM EXTENSION.

CAIRO, Wednesday.

The question of the accommodation of the objects found in Tutankhamen's tomb has been receiving the most serious consideration from the Egyptian authorities. Estimates for the construction of an annexe to the existing museum have been prepared; plans are being drawn up, and as soon as the sanction of the financial authorities is obtained, work will be started. I understand that the cost will be approximately £32,000.

The scientific authorities urge that the lighting should follow the latest improvements in western museums, and thus avoid the serious lighting defects of the existing Cairo Museum.

In view of the value of the Tutankhamen objects, and the possibility that unavoidable damp in a new building might damage them, is is suggested that various objects, which are not likely to be damaged by damp, or are not so valuable, should be removed from the main building and placed in the new annexe, and thus enable part of the main building to be reserved for the exhibition of Tutankhamen objects as one collection.

In that event, however, lighting improvements would have to be made in the main building.—The Times World Copyright.

LADY CARNARVON'S DEPARTURE DELAYED.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
From Our Own Correspondent.

CAIRO, Wednesday.

Mr. Howard Carter was taken ill to-day, and the Countess of Carnarvon has postponed her journey home until Monday. Her departure then will be contingent upon an improvement in Mr. Carter's condition.

Lady Carnarvon had proposed to accompany the remains of the late Lord Carnarvon to England. The embalmed body was to-day despatched from Cairo to Alexandria, where it will be placed on the steamer Hesperus for conveyance across the Mediterranean en route for London.

MONSIGNOR LUZIO'S VISIT.

NO INTERVIEW WITH MR. COSGRAVE.

It was stated in some of the Dublin newspapers yesterday, on the authority of a news agency, that Monsignor Luzio, the Papal delegate, was to have an interview with Mr. Cosgrave yesterday on the subject of peace in Ireland. We are in a position to state definitely that no such interview took place.

SINN FEIN DEPUTATION TO MONSIGNOR LUZIO.

A deputation from the Dublin Sinn Fein Peace Committee was received by Monsignor Luzio, Papal delegate, at the Shelbourne Hotel, Dublin, on Tuesday afternoon. The deputation formally requested Monsignor Luzio's intervention in the interests of peace.

TO-DAY'S LONDON PAPERS.

GOVERNMENT DEFEAT.

TO-DAY'S BUSINESS.

"THE TIMES" OF TO-DAY SAYS:—

It is more than ten years ago since the Government of the day has been faced with a problem such as that which the Unionist Party had to tackle yesterday; and the dramatic events of November, 1912, when, on an amendment to the financial resolution on which the finance of the Home Rule Bill was based, Mr. Asquith's Ministry found itself in a minority of 22, were freely quoted during yesterday's uproarious sitting. After questions to-day, the first business will be to move the Speaker out of the chair on the Civil Service Estimates, and it is believed that as a result of conferences, which took place among various sections after the House rose last night, the Government may be in a position to intimate its willingness to set up an ad hoc Committee to report at once on the one question of the grievances of the ex-Service entrants, and to allow such entrants themselves to give evidence before the Committee. This will probably satisfy the Labour Party, and it is a matter of regret, if this course is to be adopted, that some such concession could not have been announced by the Government on Tuesday evening.

SLAVE RAIDING.

TRESPASS ON BRITISH TERRITORY.

The Times comments editorially upon slave-raiding in Abyssinia, a practice for which, it remarks, there can be no condonation in this country. The favourite hunting ground for Abyssinian dealers in men and women is the area which adjoins the Sudan in the North and West and extends to Lake Rudolf, Uganda and Kenya Colony in the South. This once populous and semi-cultivated region is now derelict. Its negroid inhabitants have been massacred or carried off by bands of more virile hillmen, who descend from the central plateau of Abyssinia.

These marauders, who are declared often to be regular troops whose arms bear the Government stamp, have repeatedly passed beyond the frontiers of the country they have ravaged and trespassed on British territory. The whole matter is precisely one which should be brought before the League of Nations, and there does not seem to be any adequate reason why the Council should not consider it this month without waiting for the meeting of the Assembly in September. Meanwhile, it is desirable that the relevant papers and reports now in the possession of the Foreign Office should be placed at the disposal of the League without delay.

The duty of making it constantly clear to the ruler of Abyssinia that slave raids into British territory will not be tolerated is one we should imagine of which no British Government needs to be reminded.

THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

DULL MARKETS.

For the most part the Stock Markets yesterday were dull in tone (states The Times). There was nowhere acute pressure to sell; but the approach of the Account led to closing of some speculative commitments, and uncertainty with regard to next Monday's Budget acted as a deterrent upon the opening of new engagements. So far as strictly investment securities are concerned, the rise in prices made some further headway. India Stocks were again prominent. Domestic buying of British Securities of the first class continues to be supplemented by orders from abroad, including the United States and several Continental countries. It is this widespread demand for our trustee securities, maintained as it has been for many months past, that accounts for the uninterrupted manner in which values have risen. There were one or two strong features yesterday in the Miscellaneous market, notably Imperial Tobacco and British Celluloise. The former were again under the influence of bonus talk.

AN IRISH CHAPTER.

The Daily News observes:—The death of Liam Lynch gives point to the recent declarations of the Free State Government that the rebellion in Ireland is on the verge of complete collapse. We have little doubt that in the hour of victory President Cosgrave and his colleagues will avoid the mistake of revengeful action. If justice is tempered with mercy there is no reason why the events of recent months should leave any lasting bitterness behind, and the Irish possess such an amazing power of recovery that it will be easy for them to transform both the political and economic situation within a very short space of time. The one grave problem that now looms ahead is that of the relations of Ulster and the South, which involves the ultimate destiny of Ireland as a whole. To find a peaceful solution will tax all the resources of the wisest Statesmanship on both sides.

DEFEAT AND THE WAY OUT.

The Westminster Gazette says:—The ingenuity of the Speaker in discovering that the word "now" means the particular day on which a motion is put from the Chair has reduced the Government defeat to its proper proportions. It becomes an incident rather than a disaster. In regarding the defeat itself as of small importance we may also dismiss the scene which led to the temporary rising of the House last night. It was natural that members should make the most of the plight of the Government. Let us add that there is a genuine feeling that the ex-Service men who have been taken into Government employment have been treated neither generously nor wisely, and Mr. Bonar Law will do well to find a more sympathetic exponent of his policy in regard to these than Major Boyd Carpenter. Unless, however, the Ministry has learned the right lesson from the incident there will be repetitions, which nobody can treat as other than important.

DRAWING TO AN END.

The Daily Express says:—With a thoroughness the more admirable for its restraint, the warfare of the Free State Government draws to its appointed end. It remains, therefore, to prepare with confidence our congratulations for the broadminded and determined efficiency which has brought about this result with a speed that has astonished the well-wishers of the Free State almost as much as it has disconcerted its opponents. President Cosgrave and his Ministers have evinced real statesmanship in circumstances which might well have been the undoing of expert politicians. They will not fail now in the task which Ireland herself so bitterly requires to be well done.

DISORDER IN COMMONS.

"THE RED FLAG" SUNG.

ASSAULT ON AN UNDER SECRETARY.

SPEAKER ADJOURNS THE HOUSE.

(By Our Parliamentary Correspondent.)

WESTMINSTER, Wednesday.

To judge by the appearance of the House of Commons this afternoon there were few absentees, except those entitled to be absent owing to pairing arrangements. The benches on either side of the House were filled, as were those under the galleries, and many members had taken places in the balcony allotted to members of the House. At the bar stood a compact little body all through the question hour.

Mr. Lloyd George came in early, and took his usual place. Then Mr. T. P. O'Connor took his seat just behind the ex-Premier. On the other side Sir Robert Horne and Sir Laming Worthington Evans put in an unusual appearance. The front Opposition bench was packed from end to end, with Mr. Ramsay Macdonald beaming in the centre. The minor lights of the House—Messrs. Kenworthy, Pringle, Shinwell, and others—were all in their accustomed places ready for the fray, or, as it turned out to be, the play.

Questions went on for forty minutes amid a murmur of conversation that made answers extremely difficult to catch, so that every now and again there was a loud shout of "speak up." Mr. Bonar Law entered at ten minutes past three amid enthusiastic cheering from his followers, which was joined in by the Opposition after a few moments. Then members settled down to wait impatiently until the end of questions for a statement from the Government regarding the incident of last night. The sting of that incident, however, had been drawn by the fact that a motion to be moved by the Prime Minister appeared on the order paper, "That this House will to-morrow resolve itself into the Committee of Supply."

LABOUR'S RIGHTS.

At last a quarter to four chimed from the clock tower, and the House became suddenly hushed, members gazing at the Prime Minister, who sat quietly smiling. Mr. Lloyd George got up and said that he wanted to ask the Prime Minister a question. Mr. Shinwell immediately intervened on a point of order. His argument was a very involved one, but it seemed to assume that Mr. Lloyd George was trying to steal the Opposition fire. Mr. Shinwell wanted to make out that it was the prerogative of the Leader of the Opposition to ask questions regarding business. The Speaker listened patiently to the long argument, and then said that it depended upon how many leaders of the Opposition there were.

At last Mr. Lloyd George was able to ask his question, which was what was to become of the agriculture discussion, and if it was to be curtailed or dropped, could not the Government promise another day. The Chancellor of the Exchequer said that the agricultural motion would be taken after the debate on the Prime Minister's motion had been disposed of, and since he intended to say only a few words he hoped that it would not last very long. The Army Annual Bill would be taken after eleven o'clock to-night.

Then followed another little debate on the wickedness of the Minister of Health wishing to see the members of the Conservative Party in a Committee room concerning his Housing Bill. Mr. Chamberlain had announced that the text of the bill would be issued to members early to-morrow morning, but Mr. T. P. O'Connor, Mr. Kenworthy, and Mr. Trevelyan Thomson in turn pointed out how precedent was being set at defiance, how members of the House of Commons ought to have the bill presented to them before anybody else, and so on. The Chancellor of the Exchequer rose and said that the Prime Minister thought the precedent was a bad one, and that the meeting would take place.

WILD EXCITEMENT.

Then the Speaker asked the Clerk to read the Orders of the Day, and a tense half-an-hour came to a very tame ending. But only for a few minutes, for scenes of wild excitement, culminating in the suspension of the sitting for an hour, characterised the discussion, such as it was, on the Government motion when it was put to the House.

Mr. Ramsay Macdonald led off quietly enough with a request to the Speaker to give a ruling as to the procedure to be adopted, though his own opinion, plainly expressed, was that the Government had no right to repeal a motion which was negatived by the vote of the House yesterday.

The Speaker decided that the question of leaving the chair was not confined to one day in the session, and he further pointed out that what happened last night gave members a further opportunity of ventilating grievances before entering into Committee of Supply.

This matter having been disposed of, Mr. Baldwin, on behalf of the Prime Minister, who was unable to speak owing to throat trouble, rose to move the Government motion. The Government, he frankly admitted, had been caught napping, but that was no proof that it had lost the confidence of the House.

The Leader of the Opposition was inclined to disagree, while Commander Kenworthy characterised the Government's easy method of getting over its defeat as "a piece of effrontery."

"RESTRAINT AND DECORUM."

It was when Dr. Macnamara rose to speak that the real trouble began. He was greeted with a chorus of angry interruptions from the Labour members, who seemed to resent his intervention because he was absent from the debate last night. The Speaker rose to admonish the interrupters, when Mr. Kirkwood provoked a burst of laughter with, "But the Government will have to resign, Mr. Chairman." The fun grew fast and furious when Mr. Lees Smith was speaking, and there was a roar of laughter when he contended that the Labour Party were, under the circumstances, behaving with great restraint and decorum. Jeering remarks from the Government benches provoked hot retorts from the Labour representatives. Mr. Lees Smith's object in rising was to point out that the party opposite were not exactly Neophytes in the art of creating disorder, and he quoted a certain incident connected with the throwing of a book across the floor of the House. Why, he said, Mr. Jack Jones himself was a model of Parliamentary etiquette compared with——

Here the Speaker intervened with the remark that comparisons were not profitable.

Mr. Baldwin endeavoured to moderate the rising storm by promising to look afresh into the matter of the Lytton contracts as they affected ex-Service men; but the Labour members did not consider that good enough.

What they wanted was an explicit assurance, and a tumultuous disturbance ensued when the Chancellor of the Exchequer moved the closure.

"The Red Flag" was sung by the Labour members, followed by rounds of cheers. In vain the Speaker appealed for order, and Mr. Will Thorne was led to suggest the adjournment of the House. "If you cannot get on with business," he said, "you might as well get up."

MOTION PASSED.

It was hard to say exactly what happened, but the Speaker declared that the closure and the main motion, "That this House will to-morrow resolve itself into Committee of Supply," was carried. Mr. Pretyman then rose to open the agricultural debate. Labour, however, was determined not to allow business to proceed, and they immediately began singing with mechanical repetition "Sit down" and "Speak up." Mr. Pretyman continued standing, but not a word could be heard in the midst of the disturbance, and finally the Speaker decided to suspend the sitting.

There were exultant cries from the Labour benches, and members were trooping out into the lobbies when an exciting incident occurred. A group of Labour members suddenly dashed across the floor of the House, and near the Speaker's chair confronted a knot of Ministerialists, among whom were Mr. Ormsby Gore (Under Secretary for the Colonies) and Colonel Walter Guinness. A fist shot up in close proximity to Mr. Gore's head, and he put up his arms to ward off the blow. "If it's a scrap you want, come outside," shouted Mr. Eyres Monsell. A scuffle ensued, the sequel of which was lost to the Press Gallery.

After a lapse of an hour's interval the Speaker returned to the chair, and said that, in view of the grave disorder which had occurred, he would, in virtue of the powers conferred upon him, adjourn the House without putting the question.

LIQUOR SMUGGLING.

UNITED STATES PROTEST TO BRITAIN.

In the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. Ronald McNeill, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, replying to questions as to the smuggling of liquor into the United States, said that representations had been made by the United States Government in regard to the export of liquor from West Indian ports, which appeared subsequently to be introduced into the United States by small craft putting off from the United States coast, and manned by United States citizens.

It was very difficult for the Government to interfere with the legitimate export of any article from British territory, especially as action taken by the Imperial Government alone would merely drive the trade into other channels. His Majesty's Government would deplore any complicity of British subjects in infringements of the law of the United States, and he was considering, in consultation with the other departments concerned, whether any action could be taken in the sense required by the United States Government.

Mr. Shinwell asked whether he was aware that vessels were leaving United Kingdom ports manned by British seamen, who were handed out revolvers at the commencement of the voyage and were offered fairly high wages as an inducement to undertake what was regarded as a risk in conveying liquor to America.

Mr. McNeill said that he had no information, but if information was supplied he would consider what action to take.

Mr. Hope Simpson asked the Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs whether he had any information as to a piratical attack on the Yarmouth schooner Eddie James, which occurred off the New Jersey coast on March 2nd; whether the schooner was laden with 600 cases of liquor, and whether the whole of the cargo had been removed and the supercargo wounded and kidnapped by pirates.

Mr. McNeill said that no information about this alleged incident had been received at the Foreign Office.

INCENDIARISM.

ATTEMPT TO BURN AN OFFICER'S HOUSE.

In Cork last night armed men attempted to burn the residence of Lieutenant-Commandant Bruce, at St. Luke's. The owner, a former British officer, served, until recently, in the Medical Branch of the National Army. The usual procedure of sprinkling the place with petrol was adopted, but neighbours, seeing the fire, came to the rescue, and, with the assistance of the Fire Brigade, extinguished the outbreak before much damage could be done.

BODY IN A PIT.

MYSTERY OF A WOMAN'S DEATH.

The body of a well-dressed woman has been recovered from a pit at Whiston, Lancashire, by two local lads.

The circumstances under which the woman met her death are a mystery. The body has not yet been identified.

BIG FIRE IN BELFAST.

EARLY MORNING HAVOC.

The centre of Belfast was illuminated at an early hour yesterday morning by a fire which broke out in the top storeys of a block of buildings having a frontage to Royal avenue and Berry street. A policeman observed smoke and flames at the top of the building, and summoned the fire brigade.

In a few minutes the flames had made rapid progress, and the upper storeys from Berry street corner to above Warnock's, in Royal avenue, were involved, including a photographer's premises and the Ulster Blouse Company. The premises of Messrs. Warnock and the stock were damaged by water, as were also the stockrooms of Messrs. Walker and Hall, wholesale jewellers.

The caretaker of the building was confined to bed owing to illness, and was removed with difficulty. He had to be taken to hospital.

AMRITSAR DISORDER.

TROOPS CALLED TO QUELL FACTION FIGHT.

SIMLA, Wednesday.

Considerable tension has existed for some time between Hindus and Mussulmans owing to the proselytising movement in both communities.

News has just been received here from Amritsar that a serious disturbance broke out there this evening, in the course of which twenty persons were injured. The immediate cause of the trouble was an attempt by some rowdy Mussulmans to molest a Hindu girl.

The troops were called out and restored order. There was no fighting, but soldiers are still patrolling the city.—(Reuter.)

MAINTENANCE OF FREE STATE ROADS.

At a roads meeting of Monaghan Rural Council, Mr. J. J. Hannigan, B.E., a well-known authority on Irish roads questions, foreshadowed legislation by the Free State Government making the main and trunk roads a national charge. He said that the probable scheme would be that the Government would pay one-half the cost of maintenance, and the County Council the remaining half. Most probably the main roads would be tarred, and that would effect a great saving. Farmers might see an objection on the ground that tarred roads would sometimes be slippery, but that would be remedied by keeping the roads well sanded. The dust nuisance would be got rid of, and that would be a step forward in civilisation, as well as in the promotion of health.

BRIGHTON MURDER CHARGE.

Archibald Westropp Weir, 42, an ex-soldier, was yesterday again remanded by Brighton magistrates on the charge of the wilful murder of Albert Francis Parkes, 32, by shooting him in his garden on March 8. Weir was further charged with shooting at two other persons with intent to kill. The police said the Public Prosecutor would be ready to proceed with the case to-day.

THE FREE STATE PARLIAMENT.

TO-DAY'S PROGRAMME.

NO DATE FOR BUDGET STATEMENT.

BY OUR POLITICAL CORRESPONDENT.

The Irish Free State Senate will meet to-day, when the committee stage of the Damage to Property (Compensation) Bill will be taken. Notice has been given of several amendments. Among those is one by Senator Andrew Jameson, proposing that the amount of compensation awarded shall bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum from the date of the injury (which shall be stated on the decree) until the time of payment.

Senator Douglas's notice of motion (adjourned from March 21st) as to the advisability of applying for admission to the League of Nations again appears on the Order of the Day.

THE DAIL.

There are thirty-two questions on the Order paper of the Dail.

Mr. Darrell Figgis will ask the President whether he will set aside a day for discussion of the estimates of receipts and expenditure for the year ending 31st March, 1924, and the financial position revealed therein.

Mr. O'Shannon has given notice of two questions with regard to the Fugitive Offenders' Act.

Mr. Darrell Figgis will also ask the Minister for Home Affairs whether Dr. Conn Murphy, Dublin, who was arrested on the 20th March, has been on hunger strike; and whether it is intended to charge him with any offence.

After questions have been answered, the Dail will consider the Electoral Bill, as it has come back from the Senate.

The Summer-Time Bill (committee stage) will then be taken, after which the President will move a financial resolution.

It has not yet been decided when the Minister of Finance (Mr. Cosgrave) will make his Budget statement.

THE DUKE'S WEDDING.

ADDRESSES AND GIFTS PRESENTED.

The Duke of York, who was accompanied by Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, yesterday received at Buckingham Palace deputations, who presented addresses of congratulation and gifts on their approaching marriage.

The principal address was from the Lord Provost and civic dignitaries of Edinburgh, to which the Duke replied that he was gratified to learn that time had not diminished the feelings of affection and esteem which the citizens of Edinburgh entertained towards the members of his family.

Colonel Ewen Cameron, on behalf of the Grand Priory of Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem, bestowed upon Lady Elizabeth the dignity of Lady of Grace of the Order, and initiated her in that capacity.

Finally the Duke received a deputation of four boys, representing 40,000 boys of the Y.M.C.A., who presented the Duke with a hunting crop and an address of congratulation. The boys came from Darlington, Liverpool, Leeds, and London.

The Duke warmly thanked the lads.

THE DEPORTATIONS.

A LONDON PROTEST.

Mr. Herbert Morrison, Secretary of the London Labour Party, has sent the following letter to the Prime Minister and the Home Secretary:—

"I am desired by the Executive Committee of the London Labour Party to forward to you their strong protest against the action of the Government in deporting to Ireland without trial certain British citizens against whom unproved allegations had been made. The Executive regard this as an exceedingly serious interference with the liberty of the subject, and to constitute the exercise in times of peace of those powers of Governmental dictatorship which were exerted during the period of the war.

"The Executive strongly condemn this tyrannical action, and demand that the persons concerned shall be restored to their domiciles, and that they shall not be further interfered with, unless they are put on trial and the charges against them proved by constitutional legal procedure."

ANGRY COUNCILLOR.

SCENE AT MANCHESTER MEETING.

An uproar arose at the Manchester City Council yesterday, when one of the members insisted, in defiance of the Lord Mayor's ruling, in calling attention to the removal of a Manchester citizen to Mountjoy Prison, Dublin, without trial.

After several minutes' angry disputation, the member was induced to resume his seat by the threat that, if he did not, he would be asked to leave the Chamber.

CURE FOR LEPROSY.

REMARKABLE SUCCESS OF NEW TREATMENT.

The annual meeting of the Mission to Lepers was held at the Gregg Hall, Dawson street, Dublin, yesterday, the Rev. James M. Alley presiding.

The Chairman said that hardly any body of sufferers needed the consolation of the Gospel of Christ more than lepers. But he was glad to say that a new hope had dawned on the lepers of the world, for, for the first time since the days of the Saviour on earth, the lepers were being cleansed. The Rev. Mr. Oldrieve had shown him wonderful photographs, which indicated how leprosy was being cured under a new system of treatment. The death rate from the terrible disease had reduced from 20 per cent. per year to 4 per cent. This welcome news should be an encouragement to them to go on with their good work in the full knowledge that God's blessing rested upon it. (Applause.)

The report of the Committee showed that the income, exclusive of legacies, during the past year amounted to £4,968 8s. 6d., the largest on record since the foundation of the Mission, in 1874. Gratitude was expressed to the earnest and devoted workers throughout the country for their efforts on behalf of the Mission.

The report then described some of the more important phases of the Society's work during the year, and indicated what remained to be done in still untouched areas in China, Africa, and other parts of the world where leprosy is prevalent.

Canon Jennings proposed the adoption of the report and statement of accounts and the re-election of the Committee, and paid a tribute to the work done for the Society by Mr. Bailey, Secretary for Ireland, who had resigned, but who had consented to continue in office as a part-time worker for the present.

The Rev. F. G. Gibson seconded the resolution, which was adopted.

The Rev. Frank Oldrieve, Secretary for India, congratulated the Mission on the efforts made during the year, and pointed out the great need for an extension of the work of the Mission.

Describing the effect of the new treatment for leprosy, he said that it consisted of hypodermic injections of a vegetable oil, which killed the bacilli of the disease.

IN SEARCH OF SPONSORS.

PLIGHT OF VICTOR IN ANGLESEY ELECTION.

Sir Robert Thomas, the Liberal victor in the Anglesey by-election, will not take his place in the House of Commons until next week, and it is not yet certain who his sponsors will be.

It is understood that the new member wrote to Mr. Asquith and to Mr. Lloyd George asking that they should do him the honour of introducing him to the House. Mr. Lloyd George consented to this arrangement, but Mr. Asquith declined, explaining that he had never undertaken such a duty except in the case of the return of Mrs. Wintringham.

A TAX ON BETS.

BRITISH CABINET AND THE PROPOSAL.

There is much speculation in Britain about the form of the relief which the Chancellor of the Exchequer will give to the taxpayers in his Budget.

Apparently much depends on the decision of the Cabinet on the proposed taxation of betting. The Chancellor's surplus is now estimated in Ministerial quarters to be about £35,000,000, which would be sufficient to reduce the beer duty by 1d. a pint and take 1d. per lb. off sugar. It is also desired to give further relief in income taxation to the extent of 6d. in the £.

This, it is said, can only be given if a fresh and adequate source of revenue is found. The Chancellor thinks that he has it in the proposed tax on bets of 10 per cent. The Cabinet must decide this controversial issue in the next day or two.

It can be stated definitely that the proposal has good support in the Cabinet. Mr. Baldwin will not be alone in his advocacy of it. It is viewed to some extent as a question of expediency, and not solely of finance.

There is a natural hesitation about embarkation upon further controversial issues.

CHEAPER BEER.

The probable reduction of a penny a pint in the price of beer was forecasted by Mr. Waters Butler, a prominent brewer, in addressing the licensed trade meeting at Birmingham yesterday. The brewers, he said, had been asked by the Chancellor of the Exchequer how much they could contribute to a reduction of a penny, and they were prepared to find several shillings towards the 24s. per barrel which the reduction represented.

A CAPTURED DOCUMENT.

REPORT TO THE LATE MR. LIAM LYNCH.

The Irish Free State Government Publicity Department states that the following report was sent to the late Mr. Liam Lynch "by one of his principal lieutenants in his Dublin office," and adds:—"It throws further light on the general disorganisation existing among the Irregulars":—

"From 'M.T.' (Dept. of C/S, G.H.Q., Dublin), 22nd March.

"To Chief of Staff.

"You have probably seen in Press that enemy still continues to publish American correspondence. From the latest note from Moylan to O/C Britain the Americans will not be too thankful to Moylan. It is derogatory of all things American and in America. The visit of Adjt. Britain did not apparently elucidate matters much from the report I received from D/Foreign Communications here. The D/Foreign Communications was captured here on Monday night last. Nobody appears to know anything about routes. I am sending a despatch by hand to America this week-end for Moylan. A friend of Miss McS.'s is taking it.

"The Director of Publicity, who was in Britain recently, has returned. The Q.M.G. will get him ready for the other expeditions immediately. Q.M.G. was raided recently, too. Of course, every one in difficulty comes to our billet. It is a damn shame, converting the place into a hotel. He is now fixed up. He is wondering who he will get to replace the late D/C. He wanted to know if he could get 'K.' I am wondering what will be the next department will want that officer. I had hopes of his working up intelligence which is certainly very backward and lacks driving force.

"Publicity—See enclosed letter from D/P. This department is probably burst up. I see the staff of the Daily Bulletin are reported as captured yesterday. If the turning out of Eire fails it is a bad job. I am sick of it.

"When the Assist. C/S called on Sunday night he told me his reports would arrive on Monday evening. I arranged at once for special courier to carry them on same evening to 3rd Eastern H.Q.—the latter to send them to you. The courier went and met Divisional O/C, who knew nothing about meeting place and did less, apparently, to find out or get the papers sent on. Courier did her best, but had to return. He must be a genius, no doubt.

"The matter of getting reports copied in A/G.'s Dept. is hopeless. The ridiculous excuse is that they have no typewriters. I have given hell to them, and asked O/C Dublin for goodness sake to 'commandeer' a typewriter.

"Stopping of amusements has been only a partial success.

"This new Brigade O/C, while I am sure he is a good officer, appears to be hopelessly out of touch with recent policy. He was unaware—so he said—of the issue of the most important orders. I have arranged that the D/I meet him and explain everything.

"News is not encouraging these days. There has not been a decent operation, whatever the cause is.

"The Q.M.G. is afraid the erection of the Customs barrier in the North will hamper the importation of raw materials, which was working well. There has been a good deal got in and distributed, and if distributed within the divisions we should not hear soon of shortage of explosives. I think it is how they are too lazy to manufacture the explosives, or, when they have the latter, to make the mines.

"Army Order No. 1 apparently met with a poor response. I wonder will Army Orders Nos. 2 and 3 work better. If units would only enforce A.O. No. 2 they would get in some cash, which they need badly. Is the dog registration tax being collected these times?

"We still have the 4th Western looking for cash and clothing. Why does not the Command 'requisition' the necessary stuff in some richer portion of the Command and area? Again, when stuff is got in this way there is not sufficient supervision over it as to how it is disposed of. Supervision is also required over money and stamps seized in post-offices.

"Mise, le meas,

"M. T."

FEAR OF PROHIBITION.

NORTHERN PUBLICANS' ACTIVITY.

At a meeting of the Board of Management of the Ulster Vintners' Association, Mr. Thomas Agnew, the Chairman, reported a month of active work during March. Five public meetings had been organised in joint action with the anti-Prohibition Council, and all of them had been successful and enthusiastic gatherings. The people had been hard to arouse, but they were awakened to the danger that threatened their liberties, and showed that they were willing to cooperate in the movement against prohibition. Two further meetings were listed, and others would be arranged as time permitted. Some of the members thought that the people of Belfast should be kept in touch with the threat of complete Sunday closing by district meetings, and the suggestion was noted.

The secretary reported having summoned a conference of seaside hotel and inn-keepers, from which a deputation proceeded to an interview with the Prime Minister, who received the deputation with courtesy and listened patiently to the case they presented.

Attention was given to details of remedial legislation, which the Board considered would be beneficial in removing certain abuses in the future, and arrangements were discussed for presenting them at an opportune time.

THE LATE REV. J. M'SWIGGAN.

The obsequies of the Very Rev. J. McSwiggan, P.P., Chapelizod, took place yesterday in the presence of a large assembly of clergy and the parishioners. As curate, and later as parish priest, Father McSwiggan had spent close on forty years in Chapelizod. A native of Dublin, where he was born over eighty years ago, he was educated in the Irish College, Rome, and Maynooth College.

Over seventy priests attended the Office and Requiem Mass, at which Monsignor Fitzpatrick presided.

The chief mourners were Messrs. E. S. and C. M. McSwiggan (nephews), and H. Jackson. The attendance at the funeral was large, and included Rev. K. M. Dunlop, Chapelizod Rectory; Hugh McCarthy, Major J. Crooks, J. Frank Tyndall, Ministry of Defence; Patrick Baggot, P. McSwiggan, Dalkey; P. J. McGuinness, R. O'Donoghue, J. P. Dixon, and G. McGough.

The burial took place in Glasnevin Cemetery.

WOMAN'S DEATH FROM BURNS.

Mrs. Elizabeth Harvey, 5 Elswick street, Belfast, who was seriously burned yesterday, as reported in our Northern News Items, died early this morning.

TARGET GLIDERS.

NEW PHASE OF AVIATION.

TESTS IN AMERICA.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
WASHINGTON, Wednesday.

The development of the glider, or motorless airplane, is being closely studied with the view to attaining perfection by the United States Army Air Service.

The United States War Department, in making this official announcement, states it has become convinced that the development of interest by civilians in the glider will prove invaluable to the Government in training men for service as emergency airplane pilots. Several tests of the G.L. 2, a motorless airplane, have recently been conducted at McCook Field, at Dayton, the United States aviation training centre, and the results of those experiments, it is stated, were most satisfactory.

In one flight the machine covered 150 feet, and in another it exceeded 300 feet. The wind velocity during the tests was two to fifteen miles an hour.

A recent ingenious development of the glider at McCook Field is its use as a target for the practice of anti-aircraft gunnery. The so-called "target glider," as developed by the Air Service Engineering Division, is a smaller edition of the regular glider, and is fastened to the top-wing of an airplane. On being released the target glider gradually descends to the ground at a speed of about thirty miles an hour, affording a realistic target for anti-aircraft and airplane guns.

The target glider has a wing span of 12 feet 6 inches, an area of 13 square feet, and weighs 25lbs. This size was decided upon as presenting as much surface to the gunner as the vital spot of a full-sized airplane. The speed at which the glider descends may be regulated by surfaces. It can even be adjusted before release to "loop" or "spiral."

In view of the rapid development of glider flying both in England and on the Continent, where airplanes have been kept aloft for several hours in favourable conditions, the United States Army Air Service has come to the conclusion that it would be unwise to neglect this phase of aviation.

NEGOTIATIONS FAIL.

500,000 BUILDERS TO STRIKE ON SATURDAY.

The negotiations in London between the building employers and operatives broke down at a late hour last night, and the employers' notices will take effect on Saturday.

In official statements the employers said that, in view of the fact that the question of hours had been under repeated consideration since October, 1920, they noticed with regret that the operatives' representatives, after three months of almost continuous negotiations, were apparently not empowered to effect a settlement upon wages and hours.

Recognising the necessity for an immediate settlement, the employers re-affirmed their offer to refer the interpretation of the National Agreement on wages and hours unreservedly to arbitration, provided such a course was agreed upon immediately. The operatives' negotiators were not in a position to accept the employers' offer, and the Conference broke up without settlement.

In their proposals to the employers, the operatives expressed their willingness to take a vote of their membership on the question of arbitration, and asked for time to obtain this decision.

The dispute affects 500,000 men.

STRIKERS IN WORKHOUSE.

The position in regard to the farm strike in Norfolk remains unchanged. It is reported that some 600 police from other counties have been drafted into Norfolk, and that, as a consequence, there has been less evidence of intimidation.

A number of strikers have entered the Wicklewood Workhouse, leaving their wives and families at home to live on strike pay. One of the strike organisers declared yesterday that if the dispute continued others would adopt the same course.

ROSE FROM THE GRAVE.

WOMAN JOINS IN HER OWN FUNERAL FEAST.

A dramatic incident occurred at a funeral, at Toulouse, of a countrywoman who had been certified dead by a doctor. The funeral was arranged with the full ceremony of the countryside, and a long cortège followed the coffin to the cemetery. The coffin was already lowered into the grave, when the last prayers were interrupted by a moan from the coffin, which was quickly raised, and the woman was found breathing heavily.

She quickly recovered consciousness at the graveside, and, seeing the large crowd of mourners, angrily demanded of her relatives—"Who was going to pay for it all?" Later, however, she recovered her good humour and insisted on presiding at the banquet, where the food ordered for the funeral repast was eaten and her health drunk.

THE LATE DR. O'DEA.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS.

The remains of the late Roman Catholic Bishop of Galway were removed yesterday evening from Mount St. Mary's, Galway, to the Cathedral, where they were laid on a catafalque before the High Altar. Thousands had visited the remains as they lay in state at the Palace, the mourners comprising, not merely all classes from the city, but a number of country people.

Several thousands followed the hearse, the procession being preceded by over eighty priests from Galway and the surrounding dioceses. Most Rev. Dr. O'Doherty, Bishop of Clonfert, was amongst those present at the removal of the remains.

The Chamber of Commerce adjourned its meeting yesterday as a mark of respect, and requested that all shops should be closed from 10.45 this morning for the funeral, which will take place to the vault in St. Patrick's Church.

WOOLWICH AND SANDHURST.

Colonel Guinness has written to Colonel Mason to say that there is no present intention of abolishing the competitive examinations for entry into Woolwich and Sandhurst. But the whole question of the conditions of entry is still before Lord Haldane's Committee, and it is open to them to make such recommendations as they see fit.

CUMANN NA nGAEDHEAL.

At a conference representative of Cumann na nGaedheal Clubs in Dublin on Tuesday, April 10, delegates for the approaching National Convention were chosen. In view of the forthcoming Parliamentary and Municipal elections, every effort is being made to strengthen the organisation.

THE PAPERMAKERS' STRIKE.

Notwithstanding the embargo regarding the handling of paper for Government purposes, the first section of the London Gazette, running to 16 pages, was issued last night from His Majesty's Stationery Office. It is understood that the remaining portion will be issued to-day.

WOMAN BRUTALLY MURDERED.

Early yesterday morning a terrible tragedy occurred in the Middlewood district of Sheffield, the victim being a young woman named Ada Bradley (23), who was found dead with her head battered and her throat cut at the Middlewood car terminus on Langsett avenue. The dead woman was a nurse at Wharncliffe War Hospital. A woman is in custody on suspicion of being concerned in the tragedy.

BANK OF IRELAND CLERKSHIPS.
At the examination in January last, 18 appointments were gained by pupils of ROSSE COLLEGE, Stephen's Green. 10 successes at previous examination. First place on 11 occasions.—(Advt.)

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

IRISH QUESTIONS IN COMMONS.

IMPERIAL EXPENDITURE

LORD DERBY AND THE INTERNEES.

Colonel Newman asked the Prime Minister why, in the estimates for the present financial year, Ireland, for the purposes of Imperial expenditure, had been treated as one country, whereas the island was now divided into two parts, with Governments independent of each other and in different relations to this country, and was he aware of the difficulty which this method of presenting British expenditure in Ireland occasioned.

Major Boyd Carpenter—If the right hon. and gallant member will refer to the estimates he will find that separate votes on sections of votes are given for service in Northern Ireland or the Free State in five cases. The other Irish services are services which cannot conveniently or consistently, with proper accounting, be shown in two sections. I am not aware of any difficulty arising from the method of presentment.

LORD DERBY'S VISIT.

Lieutenant-Colonel Guinness, in reply to Mr. Pringle, said that the Earl of Derby's visit to Northern Ireland was official only in so far as it concerned the inspection of Regular troops. As to whether any communications passed between the Secretary for War and the Northern Government as to the 200 internees at Larne who had presented their cases before the Advisory Committee, the Earl of Derby had informed him that no communication whatever on the subject had passed between him and the Northern Government.

CUSHENDALL INQUIRY.

Mr. Bridgeman writes, in reply to Mr. T. P. O'Connor, that the report of the Cushendall inquiry has been presented to the Government. This inquiry was instituted by the British Government because it was alleged that British troops were involved in an attack upon the inhabitants of Cushendall. The result of the inquiry showed that this allegation was unfounded, and as the report, apart from the allegation in question, related solely to matters within the jurisdiction of the Government of Northern Ireland, it was not proposed to publish it unless by the request of that Government.

IRISH REPRESENTATIVE PEERS.

Mr. Bonar Law writes, in reply to Commander Bellairs, that he is aware that Ireland has twenty-eight representative peers to sixteen for Scotland. The Law Officers of the Crown have advised that, in the event of a vacancy occurring, no action to fill it can be taken without further legislative provision, but that existing representative peers retain their right to sit. The matter is under consideration.

COMPENSATION AWARDS.

Mr. Ormsby Gore, in reply to Mr. Collison, who asked what steps are being taken to carry out the agreement stated by Mr. Churchill to have been made with the Irish Provisional Government that compensation should be paid for English farm fires in 1921, attributed to Sinn Fein activities, writes that he is not aware that Mr. Churchill made any such statement as that attributed to him by the hon. member. He did state what was the case—that it was agreed between the British Government and the Provisional Government that, in assessing the liability of the British Government to refund to the Provisional Government a proportion of the sum expended by the Provisional Government in respect of the payment of the awards of the Compensation (Ireland) Commission, the damage done by the adherents of Sinn Fein in Great Britain should be taken into account, and this agreement had been carried into effect.

COST OF LIVING.

Major Boyd Carpenter, writing in reply to Mr. John Davison, who asked whether, in view of the fact that the cost of living in Ireland is now estimated at 90 per cent. over pre-war figures, he would consider the advisability of awarding a commensurate bonus to British Civil Servants stationed in Ireland, such as servants of the Ministry of Pensions, who are receiving only the same bonus as those stationed in England, where the cost of living is appreciably lower, states that bonus is payable to the staff in Southern Ireland of Imperial Departments, such as the Ministry of Pensions, in accordance with the agreement of the National Whitley Council Cost of Living Committee of the 8th May, 1920, which could not, in his view, be regarded as abrogated by the arrangements made by the Free State Government as regarded remuneration of staffs now payable from Irish funds.

FIRST AIR "STUNTER."

RACING AIRMAN TO FLY BRISTOL MACHINES.

Major E. L. Foot, one of the most famous racing airmen, has been engaged by the Bristol Aeroplane Company to fly racing and other machines for them. He takes up his new duties next week.

Major Foot is generally credited with introducing scientific "stunting" in the Royal Flying Corps.

On a memorable November day an Avro machine was seen doing a vertical sideslip towards the ground. Everyone waited for the crash, but the machine flattened out and repeated the performance several times. Major Foot—he was the pilot—then tried rolls and spins, and this was the beginning of the famous Gosport School of "Stunting."

Major Foot served in the famous 56th Squad with Ball, Bishop, Mannock, and M'Cudden. Since the war he has been flying for the Handley-Page firm.

NORTHERN EDUCATION.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH'S VIEWS

The Board of Education of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland has approved the leading provisions of the Northern Education Bill. It suggests, however, that the arrangements for religious instruction should be based in general on the recommendations of the Lynn report, and it condemns the proposal to place the appointment of teachers and the ordinary duties of management in the hands of Education Committees of boroughs or of Regional Committees of counties, whose members are drawn from wide areas of the counties, and cannot be in close touch with each school. To limit the functions of management of School Committees to the care of premises and grounds will not, in the judgment of the Board, facilitate the transfer of schools to local authorities, or increase the interest and the sense of responsibility in the locality served by the school, which are so essential to the welfare of education.

The Board considers that in voluntary schools under committees as provided in the bill the entire cost of heating and cleaning should be borne by the Ministry, as recommended by the Lynn Committee, and not merely the half, as in the bill.

It suggests that direct provision should be made in the bill to pay adequate salaries and pensions to teachers of preparatory and secondary schools which elect to remain under a board of governors other than the education authority.

That the Ministry should have power to render the same financial assistance to a secondary school for the purpose of building and equipment as it is able by the terms of the bill to render to a voluntary primary school.

ARRESTS AND CAPTURES.

The National Army Headquarters last night issued the following official report:—

"Troops operating about Nenagh area captured an important local irregular named Ryan, of Lacken district. He was fully armed when taken prisoner. Four other irregulars were captured with Ryan.

"In the Kilkee area the troops made the following arrests:—Patrick and John Mescallig and Dan Grogan, latter column man.

"In the Ballyvaughan district the following arrests were made:—Michael and Patrick Babbitt, Patrick Hurley."

GERMAN REVOLT IN MEMEL.

PROTEST AGAINST LITHUANIAN RULE.

THREE KILLED IN STRIKE RIOT.

WARSAW, Wednesday.

The following message from a Polish source in Memel has been received here:—After a general strike had been proclaimed at Memel as a protest against the Lithuanian authorities, a meeting which was being held on the outskirts of the town was dispersed by troops. Three workmen were killed and a number wounded. The commander in the Memel territory declares that he will stop at nothing to break the resistance of the strikers.

The population is exasperated at the conduct of the Lithuanian authorities, and the whole life of the people has been disorganised. The situation is becoming daily more critical. Germans throughout the territory—Extreme Right and Communists alike—are opposed to the Lithuanian authorities. The opposition is being led by the German trades unions.

The Lithuanian Government has despatched considerable forces to Memel and to Heydekrog, where martial law has been proclaimed.

Many arrests have been made. Demonstrations held to obtain the release of persons arrested were dispersed by troops. Machine-guns have been placed at various commanding points in the streets.

The Lithuanian commander has ordered the dissolution of the Memel-Germany-Lithuanian Union, whose leaders have been arrested and deported.

A strict Press censorship has been imposed.—(Reuter.)

STRIKERS FIRE FIRST.

COMMUNIST INSTIGATION.

KOVNO, Wednesday.

A message received here to-day from a Lithuanian source in Memel says that fire was opened against demonstrators there only after the mob had shot at the troops and wounded a soldier.

Only Germans and Communists are taking part in the strikes. Many workers, on the other hand, are returning to work, declaring that they have been misled by their leaders.

The Communists are demanding the release of the arrested leaders, and negotiations have been started for the reduction of their sentences.

Factories are still closed, but shops are reopening, in spite of interference from Communists. There is a small supply of water, but not of electric current. The strike of postal and telegraphic employés is ended, and, according to the latest news, the general strike is now coming to an end.—(Reuter.)

RECENT HISTORY.

Memel port and immediate area, in the extreme North of Prussia, on the Polish-Lithuanian frontier, was formerly under German rule, but at the conclusion of the war was claimed by Poland and Lithuania. Under the Treaty of Versailles, it was placed temporarily under the control of a French Commission, pending the League of Nations' decision as to its ultimate rule. Recently, it will be remembered, unofficial Lithuanian forces seized the town. Negotiations followed, and the Powers decided that Lithuania should supervise the Government. This was bitterly resented by the German population, which is now in open revolt.

DUBLIN-BUILT DREDGER.

TRIALS IN DUBLIN BAY.

On Wednesday and Thursday, 4th and 5th April, exhaustive dredging and speed trials were carried out by the new steel screw hopper grab dredger Elsinore, which has been built to the order of the Sligo Harbour Commissioners by the Dublin Dockyard Company, Limited. The dimensions of the vessel are:—Length, B.P., 93ft. 6in.; breadth, moulded, 24ft. 6in.; depth, moulded, 9ft. 6in., and she is capable of carrying 200 tons of spoil in her hopper, besides bunker coal, etc., on a draft of 8ft. 4in. She is built of steel, to Lloyd's highest class, and has additional strengthening in the bottom and other important parts, where experience has proved such to be desirable. The Elsinore is fitted with a complete towing arrangement, so that she may act as a tug when required. Comfortable and commodious accommodation is provided for officers and crew. The dredging machinery consists of a powerful steam grab crane, by John H. Wilson and Company, Limited, having an outreach of 20ft., and a "Priestman" grab, capable of lifting 2½ tons from a depth of 40 feet below vessel's deck.

The propelling machinery, which has been constructed by Messrs. William Beardmore and Company, Limited, and installed at Dublin by the Dublin Dockyard Company, Limited, consists of a set of compound surface condensing engines, having cylinders 11in. and 24in. diameter, with a stroke of 16in. The boiler, which is of ample capacity, is of the return tube type, and has a working pressure of 125lbs. per square inch.

A mean speed of 7.3 knots was obtained on the trials over a measured course of 1.33 nautical miles in Dublin Bay.

The vessel has been constructed under the supervision of Mr. James Maxton, naval architect.

JEWELS STOLEN FROM HOTEL.

At Windermere yesterday George Williams was remanded, charged with stealing jewellery and clothing to the value of £3,000, the property of Mr. and Mrs. Snadden, of Black Drummond, Perthshire.

It was stated that the accused man stayed on Monday night at a hotel at Bowness, from which the property was missed, and that it was found in the accused man's possession at Kendal when he was arrested.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS.

Rev. H. L. Bishop and Mrs. Bishop, of Portuguese East Africa, and Rev. L. W. Juby and Mrs. Juby, of Sierra Leone, West Africa, have returned home on furlough.

Mr. T. L. Ferens, for many years a member of Parliament for Hull, has been appointed Joint Honorary Treasurer of the Temperance Council of the Christian Churches of England and Wales.

Rev. Dr. Ritson has gone to visit the Bible Society's workers in Egypt and Palestine.

It is announced that three bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, U.S.A., have been invited to Moscow to advise the Soviet authorities in reorganising the Russian Orthodox Church.

The Centenary Church has suffered severely during the past week in the death of two members and officials. Mr. Edward Carroll, who had been in ill-health for a considerable time, died in a nursing home in Southsea. He was a man of much personal charm and devoted to his church, and his early removal is regretted by a wide circle of friends. Three days later a wire from Montana, Switzerland, conveyed the news of the death of Mr. C. F. Crowe. A serious illness three months ago compelled him to go abroad, in the hope of recovery, but in the prime of his manhood and usefulness he, too, has gone to his rest. The church and Christian Endeavour Society and Young Men's Class will sorely miss his quiet and devout help.

Among the names of the successful candidates at the recent Sunday School Teachers' Examination Miss Margaret Wood, Wesley College, is the only Dublin candidate who passed successfully among twenty-seven examinees.

Mr. W. Wallace, J.P., of Blackrock, who has been nominated for election to Conference, received that honour forty-five years ago, when laymen were first admitted to the Irish Conference.

Recent College and University successes of Dublin Methodist students contain the names of Miss Carson and Mr. Alan Brown (final medical), and Mr. R. E. Madden, 1st class pass (2nd year medical).

ADDRESS TO A BISHOP.

Yesterday at Ferrybank Convent, Waterford, an address of welcome was presented to Dr. Downey, Coadjutor Bishop of Ossory, who will administer the Sacrament of Confirmation to the children of Ferrybank parish on Friday.

"RED" PLOT IN AMERICA.

SEVEN ARRESTS BY SECRET SERVICE AGENTS.

"SOVIET" IN THE UNITED STATES.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
NEW YORK, Wednesday.

Considerable importance is attached by the authorities here to the arrest of seven "Red" leaders by Secret Service agents, at a gathering of "Reds," who met ostensibly to discuss the Foster Communist trial at Michigan.

It is understood that the arrests have unearthed a huge plan to convert all United States Government employées to Soviet principles. The large number of documents and correspondence seized indicate that the Bolshevik scheme was to include the organising of a widespread propaganda plan among Government workers, with the object of undermining Government procedure at the American capitol.

The unearthing of the plot was due to the work of a Secret Service agent, who became a member of the "Reds" organisation.

PEACEFUL TYRONE.

CRIMINAL INJURIES AT VANISHING POINT.

His Honour Judge Linehan addressing the Grand Jury at Omagh Crown Sessions yesterday, said that criminal injuries, which formerly had occupied so much of his time at Quarter Sessions, had now been reduced almost to vanishing point in the County of Tyrone. All concerned in the administration of the law were to be congratulated on that state of affairs.

The only bill of indictment to go before the Grand Jury was in connection with the rescue of goods out of the custody of a bailiff after they had been seized by the Sheriff on a Civil Bill decree.

WRITING A PLAY.

MR. ROBINSON'S SIMPLE ESSENTIALS.

In the writing of a play the first essential is to have something to write about, said Mr. Lennox Robinson in discussing the presentation of "My New Curate" at the Father Mathew Hall last night. The next essential is to express what one has to say in terms of real life.

Mr. Robinson had no hesitation in describing "My New Curate" as a very bad play, in the sense that it was not drama at all and was impossible of interpretation.

With regard to the plays chosen for the Father Mathew dramatic competition, he found that they belonged to various categories, a fact which made the task of deciding between the merits of the several presentations very difficult, and he hoped that next year a set of plays falling under one category would be decided on from which competing companies could take their choice.

A great deal of boasting was indulged in about Irish drama, said Mr. Robinson, but the truth was that people in Ireland were terribly ignorant of the dramatic art of other countries, and would remain so until they were given a chance to see the work of Continental playwrights. Irish dramatic writing could not be for ever confined to depicting life in kitchens and on hillsides. The whole art of the theatre had yet to be developed in Ireland.

On Friday night the Inchicore Mystery Players will produce the "White Dove of Erin."

FARMERS' RATES.

ASSESSMENTS TO BE REDUCED IN BRITAIN.

The following statement with regard to the decisions of the British Government about the report of the Tribunal of Economists was issued by the Minister of Agriculture last night.

In view of the short time since the report was issued, and the importance, financial and otherwise, of the question involved, the Government are not prepared to make any comprehensive statement at the present time.

With regard to railway rates, the Government are of the opinion that the railway companies are in a position to reduce rates drastically. The remedy, however, lies in the hands of the industry, which can make application to the Railway Rates Tribunal, established by Parliament for such cases. In this connection meetings between the parties are being arranged, and the Ministry of Agriculture has expressed its willingness to give any assistance in its power.

With regard to hops, the Government does not adopt the recommendations of their tribunal.

With regard to local rates, it has been decided that the Road Fund surplus, amounting probably to £1,250,000, should be devoted to the relief of rates for the upkeep of rural roads.

The Government also intends, pending proposals for dealing with the whole rates question, to introduce a bill this session to reduce the assessment of agricultural lands from one-half to one-quarter, making good the difference by an Exchequer grant. This would be in addition to the proposals as to their Road Fund.

OBITUARY.

SIR THOMAS MUNRO.

The death occurred at Edinburgh yesterday of Sir Thomas Munro, County Clerk of Lanarkshire. He had been laid aside for about three weeks with bronchial trouble, but death was due to pneumonia, which supervened.

REV. H. S. GEDGE.

The death has occurred at Leicester of the Rev. Hugh Somerville Gedge, Honorary Canon of Peterborough and Leicester, and younger brother of Mr. Sydney Gedge, who died last Friday. The reverend gentleman, who was 79, was an invalid for several years, as the result of injuries sustained in the disaster to the Midland express at Wellingborough in 1898, when a hand truck ran off the platform and wrecked the train. His wife also was injured.

DERRY SHOP FIRE.

The Central Boot Company's shop in William street, Londonderry, was gutted by fire early on Tuesday morning. Two families, living in rooms overhead, escaped in their night attire. The shop was opened only two months ago.

HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Prospect House, Mountnugent, the property of Mr. Patrick J. Bartley, late Clerk of Oldcastle Poor Law Guardians, was burned to the ground during Monday night. The house, which was a substantial two-storeyed dwelling, was situated on the shores of Lough Sheelin, about five miles from Oldcastle. Mr. Bartley was acting for the Ministry of Local Government at Longford County Home, and returned to Mountnugent to find the residence completely gutted by fire. Portion of the outoffices was also burned.

STORE CATTLE.

ADVANTAGES OF IRISH BREEDERS.

REFORMS WHICH MUST BE MADE.

BY JAMES CAMERON

(THE WELL-KNOWN SCOTTISH JUDGE OF LIVESTOCK).

Central and Southern or South-Western Ireland may with confidence be classed as the best breeding and grazing grounds in Western Europe for commercial cattle. Meath and Westmeath may be taken broadly as the ideal in natural kindliness and the resource of soil, but the majority of grazing areas to the South and South-West have their own virtues. Then over all there is the wonderful climate—moist, no doubt, taken as a whole, but with a warm breath intermingled. What an advantage it is to have the growing stock in the open. The constant grazing of the finer areas by store cattle without adequate returns to the soil in phosphatic manures has been seen to be a form of danger by Professor Wilson and others. But a seen danger like a seen dearth can be guarded against.

Let me be perfectly frank in regard to the producing position. Irish store cattle have been affected for the worse by the disturbed state of the country. "Patriots" of the town-bred and purely political order are blind and deaf to this aspect of their country's fortunes. It, therefore, behoves all other classes of the community to strive resolutely for best results from land and stock. The standard must be well maintained in selection of bulls and in the retaining of breeding females. Last year Southern men were afraid to buy at Belfast. There was a threat over their heads. I was glad to notice last month that there had been a return to sanity in this matter of tolerating or encouraging free selection. In bygone years one has sometimes seen an undue proportion of well-bred heifers passing from the store cattle districts of Ireland across the Channel, especially to England. This is a matter which is difficult to control, but it is only reasonable that some form of restriction should be in force where the premium system is in full play.

FAVOURITES IN SCOTLAND.

The Irish Shorthorn grades and crosses between these and the Aberdeen-Angus are the first favourites in Scotland. The first crosses with the Hereford are very good, but the nearer one is to the Whitefaces the more the animals are adapted for finishing on the grass. North of the Scottish border the pure Hereford has never been liked for winter court feeding. Our Scottish butchers do not like the colour of the inside of a Hereford finished with plenty of cake in covered courts. Their ideal is, of course, the Scottish North-Eastern blacks and blue-greys, but the Irish Shorthorn grades, and very specially the crosses between these and the Aberdeen-Angus—all finished in the best feeding districts of Scotland—have always been welcome. But feeders in Scotland dislike the black horned Irish lots, such as crosses from the Kerry. There are polled blacks also which grow long in the tail and wise, but which men of skill avoid. I need not go into the breeding of these. Let it be granted that it is not easy to produce milk on high, poor and exposed land and also breed useful feeding cattle.

There must be drastic reforms in the general handling of the Irish store cattle. At railway sidings, at shipping and unshipping ports, at sale rings, and, indeed, mainly along the general course from breeder to buyer, the stick is shamefully used. At the entrance to a representative sale ring the ear hints at something akin to stone-breaking inside the enclosure. All this expenditure of energy in the wrong place has to be paid for in some form. Even in the case of Irish carcases from port-killed animals one sees too many bruises along backs and rumps. The marks of the stick are also seen on Irish pigs, alive and dead.

THE CHIEF SOURCE.

In spite of Canadians, Scotland must look very much towards Ireland for cattle which are fit to graze profitably and then finish in autumn or winter. There is no use in thinking of putting Canadian stores out to graze in any of the Western counties of Scotland. Prior to 1892, as I remember well, the big, over-aged cattle from Canada did fairly well for a spell on the grass late on in the season if they had a dry start. They could bear any amount of dry cold, but wet weather at the outset set their backs up, while the Irish cattle were doing quite well under like conditions. The old Canadians were also despisers of all ordinary fences.

The younger Canadians which are now to be landed may be slightly more adaptable. Still, I should have my doubts as to their general suitability for a period of grazing in Scotland. Norfolk is more likely to suit them for grazing. The younger cattle are also certain to be juicier in flesh than were the old Canadians of over thirty years ago. An animal which has gone through two or three hard winters tends to be dry in flesh. The cut from a properly-finished Irish bullock had always plenty of natural gravy in it, but the old Canadian yielded little of that juice, as a rule.

Well-bred Irish cattle, with plenty of hair on them, should still have a good outlet from late February, on through March and early April. But the landing regulations impose a considerable handicap.

WEXFORD AND PEACE.

APPEAL TO MONSIGNOR LUZIO.

The Wexford County Council has passed the following resolution:—

"That, realising the great desire of our Holy Father the Pope for peace, particularly in Ireland, this, the premier body of the county, avails itself of the visit of Monsignor Luzio, Papal Envoy, to request him, in view of the anxiety of our people to secure peace, to use every effort possible to bring about a satisfactory settlement of the present most deplorable conflict. The resolution to be forwarded to the Most Rev. Dr. Byrne, Archbishop of Dublin, for transmission to Monsignor Luzio."

It was also decided to forward a copy of the resolution to Cardinal Logue.

FINANCIAL RELATIONS.

NORTHERN IRELAND'S CASE.

The third meeting of the Special Arbitration Committee, to adjust the financial relations between Great Britain and Northern Ireland, was held yesterday. There were present:—Lord Colwyn, in the chair; Sir Laming Worthington Evans, M.P.; Sir Josiah Stamp and Mr. W. Pierce, secretary.

The case put forward by Northern Ireland was further argued by Mr. Pollock, Minister of Finance, and Sir Ernest Clark, and replies were made on behalf of the Treasury by Mr. Upcott, Mr. Hawtrey, and others.

A further sitting will be held to-day.

GRADED BUTTER.

CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETY'S OPINION.

At a special meeting of the Killeshandra Co-operative Society, Ltd. (Colonel Clifford presiding), the question as to the best means of improving the price and reputation of Irish butter on the British markets was fully discussed, and the following resolution on the subject was, on the motion of Major W. J. Hamilton, D.L., unanimously adopted:—

"That we, the Committee of the Killeshandra Co-operative Agricultural and Dairy Society, Ltd. (Co. Cavan), having a trade turnover of £137,000 per annum, and manufacturing butter on co-operative lines for 2,984 farmers, strongly support the butter grading scheme put before the Agricultural Commission by the Irish Dairy (Producers and Shippers) Association. We are convinced, after due consideration, that only by the methods suggested in that scheme can the standard of Irish butter be permanently improved and the commercial reputation of the proposed national brand be respected and safeguarded."

A second resolution demanded that the producers and shippers get direct and effective representation, and thus avoid the pitfalls which brought so much disaster and loss in the case of past schemes and "controls."

A third resolution was as follows:—

"That we represent the largest and most successful society of co-operative farmers in this country. Our produce has, on more than one occasion, beaten Danish in open competition at British agricultural shows; therefore, we claim to know from practical experience what is required to raise the standard and price of Irish butter, and we trust that the Commission of Agriculture taking evidence in this matter will, before coming to a decision, give due consideration to our views."

DUNDALK RATES.

CHAIRMAN AND THE SEIZURE OF THE BOOKS.

At the Dundalk Urban Council meeting the Chairman, Mr. Peter Hughes, M.P., referred to the seizure of the town-rate and poor-rate books. Some persons had relieved Mr. Magrath and Mr. Murphy of their books. He said that the outcome of this was that if the Council could not get the £4,000 that was due to them they would have to close down and sack their men, and if those who took the books thought it was good policy to have forty or fifty men idle—there was too much unemployment in the town already—well and good. At the same time he wished it to be understood that the collectors were not to cease collecting the money. They had ample means at their disposal to know those who had paid and those who had not, and he took it that the Council would order them to proceed and get as much of the outstanding money as possible. The Council had, of course, the alternative of carrying the money forward, but it was a course which he did not want them to take. They had always to carry forward some money, but they would want a good proportion of the £4,000 to carry them through until the new rate started to come in. The probability was that they would have to get an overdraft from their bankers until such time as the new rate came in. Meantime, the collectors were to proceed and get in as much as possible of the arrears in the ordinary way.

Mr. Deery—Have you not a means of knowing what each person owes? Have you not duplicates?

The Chairman—Certainly.

Mr. Coburn—Sure it was never intended that they should not go round and collect.

The Chairman—Fearing that some persons might be under the impression that everything was lost and that they might not be willing to pay, I made the statement in public.

GAMING LAW PROBLEM.

CLAIM FOR BETTING LOSSES.

Mr. Justice McCardie yesterday reserved judgment in the King's Bench Division, London, in a claim by Mr. William Henshall, of Golder's Green, against Mr. Coates Fothergill Porter, of Leeds, to recover £333, value of cheques given in respect of betting losses. The question involved was whether the plaintiff's claim was not barred by the Act of 1922, as the writ was not issued until after the passing of the Act, although the transactions took place before it.

Counsel for the defendant argued that the action could not be maintained.

Counsel for the plaintiff said that it was a clear rule at common law that the new Statute did not affect vested rights unless clear words were used to signify that intention.

It was stated that many cases were affected by this action.

MISS SHEILA LOCKE.

WRITER'S ADOPTED DAUGHTER AND "ODIOUS SUGGESTION."

The Press Association says that Miss Sheila Locke, the adopted daughter of the distinguished novelist, writing from Cannes, says—"I should be obliged if you would allow me to deny in your columns, with the utmost indignation, what counsel acting on my behalf at the recent inquest termed 'an odious suggestion,' i.e. that Mrs. Locke wrote a letter under my name.

"The letter in question, like all others read at the inquest purporting to come from me, was written by me, in my own hand, expressing my deepest feelings, without inspiration or dictation from either Mr. or Mrs. Locke, who had always been over-scrupulous in not desiring to influence me in any manner."

The inquest referred to was that held on April 5, at Hammersmith, London, on her father, Mr. Alfred Sandells Baines, who committed suicide in his flat at Bayswater, London, during a fit of temporary insanity, following the refusal of his daughter, a minor, to return to him. She had been living since April, 1921, with Mr. and Mrs. Locke, who recently adopted her.

WOMEN P.O. SUPERVISORS.

Salaries paid to women supervisors evoked strong protests at the Post Office Controlling Officers' Conference at Glasgow yesterday, many women delegates urging better conditions and declaring that great dissatisfaction existed. It was urged that the question should be raised on the Post Office estimates debate in the House of Commons next week.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

MUNICIPAL REFORM IN DUBLIN.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—The poor we have always with us, and housing was, is, and always will be of the utmost importance, particularly in this city of ours, which is 1883 years old. In 1851 the population was 261,700; in 1891, forty years later, it was only 245,001. The reason of this reduction was that those who could afford to live outside the city boundary built beautiful dwelling-houses in the adjoining townships, while retaining the shops, warehouses, and factories in the city, where they made, and still continue to make, their money.

In 1900 five districts were added, and the census in 1911 was 304,802; Rathmines and Rathgar, 37,840; Pembroke, 29,294. Many efforts were made to annex these, but without success. If they were added, the population of Greater Dublin would be 371,936. My reason for taking such an interest in this matter is that we had a smallpox epidemic forty-four years ago. Slum-dwellers suffered most. The Bull Alley area was the worst. Lord Iveagh bought this out, made St. Patrick's Park, and erected blocks of artisans' dwellings, lodging-house, baths, etc. The Dublin Artisans' Dwellings Co., established on business lines with a capital of £300,000 in 30,000 shares of £10 each, built a lot of small houses valued from £5 to £17 in the same locality. All are well let, and they have thousands of names on their books who want similar accommodation.

We have, unfortunately, only one Lord Iveagh, but we have a great many merchants like the directors of the D.A.D. Co., who could form commercial dwellings as well as artisans' dwellings companies, and prevent the north city from decaying. These could be established on business lines, and I have no doubt whatever that they would pay a fair dividend. Men who had only 15s. to 20s. a week forty years ago, and found it hard to pay 3s. 6d. a week for a room in a tenement, are now paid 50s. to 60s., and can afford to pay 8s. or 10s. for a small house. The thrifty ones would gladly take a £5 or £10 share, so that they would have a prior claim when the houses would be built. At present there is such a hunger that people give as much as £20 for a key.

This question should interest clergymen, employers of labour, the Citizens' Association, Rotarians, after-dinner speakers, etc. One of the latter some years ago told a very good story. "Five families lived in one large room in a tenement, one in every corner, and one in the middle. All lived happily until the family in the middle took in a lodger." Everybody laughed, naturally; but, if a wag had added that these people were tailors and tailoresses, and that the diners' dress-suits were made in that room, and that the lodger had smallpox or some other infectious disease, they would soon rush home and destroy their clothes.

We will soon have a new franchise. Public bodies want reforming—at present they are too unwieldy. If Rathmines and Pembroke were added to the city, I would suggest the scrapping of all existing boards. Forty members should do all the Corporation business, and these townships could send in about eight or ten representatives. Thirty members would be sufficient for the Poor Law Board, this number to include urban and rural districts; thirty members, also, for the Asylum Board, to include urban and rural districts and the counties Louth and Wicklow. This means 100 all told. Hold meetings on Wednesdays (the half-holiday)—committee on the last Wednesday, and general on the first Wednesday of the month. Pay every member £1 for attendance. The maximum cost would be £2,400.

A business man cannot neglect his own work, but, if his shop were closed and he had his evening off, he could attend a Corporation, Poor Law or Asylum meeting, get paid his money, and look after his own and our business.

A new Corporation, composed of business men, should get a list of all the ruins in the different wards. Ground landlords should either rebuild or sell to the Corporation. Our worthy Recorder is just the right man to deal justly between these two parties. The idea of appointing Special Commissioners does not appeal to me at all, as we have a Local Government Board which has the power to dissolve elected bodies if it is necessary.—Yours, etc.,

"AN OLD RESIDENT RATEPAYER."

Dublin, April 11th, 1923.

REGISTRATION OF VOTES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—May I request you to give prominence to the announcement, already published in the Press, to the effect that the period for receiving claims to be registered as Parliamentary or Local Government electors has been extended by the Minister for Local Government until the 25th instant, instead of the 11th instant, as previously announced? Persons residing in the city who are anxious to satisfy themselves that they are properly returned on the electors' list may inspect the same at any of the public libraries, or at the office for registration of voters in Exchange Buildings, Lord Edward street. At the latter address every facility is afforded by the staff to members of the public making inquiries.—Yours, etc.,

JOHN J. MURPHY, Town Clerk,
Deputy Registration Officer.
The Town Clerk's Office, Dublin,
April 11th, 1923.

BARONET'S DEATH.

REVOLVER FOUND NEAR DEAD BODY.

The inquest on the body of Sir John Holdsworth Dimsdale, Bart., which was found on Tuesday evening in a churchyard adjoining Old Seasalter Church, near Whitstable, may be held to-day.

The discovery was made by a man who was on his way home from work. There was a bullet wound through the mouth, and apparently the deceased gentleman had been dead for some hours. Near the body was an automatic revolver.

Sir John was about forty-one years of age.

Thousands of ladies keep a box of Martin's Pills in the house. Those who use them recommend them, hence their enormous sale. Price 5s. Sold by all Chemists and Stores; or post free from Proprietors, Martin, Chemists, Southampton.—(Advt.)

DARING BURGLARY.

COLONEL GRETTON'S HOUSE RANSACKED.

A daring burglary was carried out on Tuesday night at Stapleford Park, Leicestershire, the residence of Colonel and the Hon. Mrs. John Gretton, and when the discovery was made it was found that many articles of value were missing. Mrs. Gretton was at home at the time.

Entrance to the house was effected by forcing the window of a storeroom. All the down-stairs rooms were ransacked and drawers and boxes broken open. Several bedrooms also were entered, including that in which Lady St. Audries, sister of Mrs. Gretton, was sleeping, her pearl necklace being stolen. Many valuable pieces of jewellery were taken.

The total value of the stolen articles is estimated at £2,000.

MAGEE COLLEGE.

CHANGES IN DIVINITY COURSE.

The closing morning of the session of McCrea-Magee College, Londonderry, was held in the Examination Hall yesterday, Professor J. R. Leebody, M.A., D.Sc., President of the Faculty, in the chair. The proceedings opened with prayer by the Rev. Professor Strahan, D.D.

In his address, the President referred to changes in the functions of the College, the chief being that in connection with the Divinity Course. Candidates for the ministry could now pursue only one year of their Divinity Course in Magee College. That was the year classed as the fourth year; for the fifth and sixth years Divinity students would have to proceed to the Assembly's College at Belfast, or to one of the Scottish Theological Colleges.

The prizes were distributed, and the Rev. R. W. Ross, on behalf of the College Committee, submitted the report for the session, after which the closing address was delivered by Professor MacMaster, M.A., D.Litt., vice-President.

PALM OIL HUNTING.

VALUABLE WRECKAGE ON DUBLIN COAST.

After the recent storms a good deal of wreckage was washed up along the shore between Clogherhead and Howth. It consisted mainly of ships' timbers, broken and battered, but in some places the wreckage took the form of barrels of palm oil, tins of fruit, and bottles of oil. It is thought that this wreckage came from a ship which was torpedoed off the Rock of Bill during the war, and is now breaking up.

The palm oil is a solid, white, butter-like substance, and the barrels came ashore at Bettystown, Laytown, Gormanstown, and Balbriggan, but Skerries, Loughshinny, and Rush, which are directly opposite the "Rock of Bill," came in for the lion's share. The Loughshinny fishermen, while in pursuit of their ordinary vocation, bumped against barrels of this "queer stuff" drifting in the sea, and towed them ashore. The "queer stuff" on investigation proving valuable, a veritable hunt for palm oil began in the sea around, and more than a hundred barrels were recovered between Skerries, Loughshinny, and Rush.

It is stated that some enterprising people in the locality purchased the barrels from the fisher-people, brought them up to Dublin, and sold them for a high figure.

According to our Drogheda Correspondent, the Free State Government's Marine Investigation Department at Howth, on learning of what was taking place, traced almost every barrel of the oil, and orders for the payment within fourteen days of the amounts which had been received were served on the sellers.

STOCKS CLOSED WEAK.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

NEW YORK, Wednesday.

Stocks opened irregular. The reduction in the price of Pennsylvania crude oil instigated rumours that "cuts" in prices were being planned for the mid-Continent, Ohio-Kentucky fields. Oils broke 2 to 4 points, several issues touching the year's lowest point. The general market, after temporary resistance, gave way sharply, American Woollen, International Paper, Industrial Alcohol, American Hide and Leather Preferred, and Chemicals being especially heavy. The closing was weak.

In the first few months of her infancy she was given the 'Allenburys' Milk Food No. 1, which is practically identical with mother's milk at its best. At three months this was replaced by the 'Allenburys' Milk Food No. 2, which is essentially the same in composition as the No. 1 Food, but contains additional nutritive elements to promote healthy growth and development which take place rapidly at this stage. At six months of age when she was entering a new stage in her progress the 'Allenburys' Malted Food No. 3 was given. The next step was the 'Allenburys' Malted Rusks, which lead up to other forms of solid food.

The 'Allenburys' Foods are prepared at Ware, Hertfordshire, from the pure milk of pedigree cows pastured in the Home Counties.

CRUSHED BY TENDER.

NATIONAL SOLDIER'S DEATH AT NORTH WALL.

A verdict of death from shock and hemorrhage, following accidental injuries, was returned at an inquest held yesterday on Company Sergeant-Major Michael Hanlon, of the National Army, who was killed the previous evening by a motor tender at North Wall.

Mr. J. Clark, solicitor, represented the Free State authorities.

Mr. J. M. Seales, solicitor, appeared for the next-of-kin.

Mr. Archibald Hanlon, 29 Munster street, identified the remains as those of his brother, aged 26, single, a company sergeant-major in the National Army.

A military witness stated that he was in a tender travelling from Portobello to the North Wall. When passing the British and Irish Steam Packet Company's premises he saw a hackney car in front, which, when the driver of the motor car sounded his horn and slowed down, swerved to the left, and almost immediately back again to the right. The motor car, in order to avoid striking the hackney car and the cattle gangway to the right, swerved to the left, after which it skidded and turned right on to the footpath, crushing two soldiers against the wall.

Witness jumped out, and got the names of the driver of the hackney car and the two passengers. The driver of the hackney car admitted hearing the horn, and said that he had instructions from the two passengers to go to a shed at the right-hand side. In Witness's opinion, the driver did everything possible to avoid the accident.

James Irvine, a passenger on the hackney car, stated that when the motor tender passed it skidded and hit against the wall broadside, catching the two soldiers against the wall.

A Juror—Was the tender travelling at an excessive speed?

Witness—Well, it all depends on the state of the road; it was greasy at the time.

Dr. Moloney, house surgeon, Jervis street Hospital, stated that when admitted at 6.30 Hanlon was dead. He had an incised wound, reaching to the bone over the left eye, an abrasion on the chin and another on the right forearm, fracture of the right radius. Three ribs on the left side were fractured. The liver and spleen were ruptured. Death was due to shock and hemorrhage.

The driver of the tender volunteered to give evidence, and stated that when he had passed the hackney car he perceived a gangway in front, and in order to avoid it he swerved to the left, applying the footbrake and pushing in the clutch. The front wheels skidded and hit the pavement, and the two soldiers were crushed against the wall. He could not avoid the accident, which he much regretted.

Nicholas Brierty, 38 North Brunswick street, Dublin, the driver of the hackney car, was also examined, and said that he could not account for the accident. The tender swerved suddenly on to the footway after passing his car.

The jury found as stated, exonerating the drivers of the tender and the hackney car from all blame, and they expressed sympathy with the relatives of the deceased.

EGLINTON.

TO-DAY'S PROGRAMME AND SELECTIONS.

Cold, east winds have given place to warm sunshine, and there is every inducement to the public to patronise the opening of the Scottish season at Eglinton to-day. The going will be found in splendid order, and the arrival list presages good sport. On the card are seven events. The West of Scotland Steeplechase claims chief attention. The scratching of Silver Ring, Sir Huon, and Beggar's End leaves Drinmond the sole representative of Gore's stable, and, as it had an undoubtedly strong hand and Drinmond has been scratched from the Scottish Grand National, this may be accepted as a pointer. Still, Drinmond's form is not inspiring, and the winner must be looked for elsewhere. If Derryboy II. is saddled from Coulthwaite's stable he will command a following, and I hear that the connections of Gay Lochinvar are sweet on his chance, but Phantom Bold appeals strongly to me. Selections:—

Redburn Hurdle—B. Jay.
Ravenspark Handicap—Fulneck.
West of Scotland Steeplechase—Phantom Bold.
Irvine Town Handicap—Vain Simon.
Hunt Cup—Crystal Gazer.
Eglinton Plate—Orpi.
Montgomerie Steeplechase—Sherston.

[The figures in front of the names of the horses are an index to placings in their last three engagements—reading from right to left.]

IRISH ATHLETICS.

ANNUAL MEETING OF I.A.A.A.

The annual general meeting of the Irish Amateur Athletic Association, which has, since the inauguration of the National A. and C.A. in the Free State, confined its activities solely to Ulster, was held in the Committee rooms, Belfast. The chair was taken by Dr. Robin Hall, and there was a very large attendance of delegates.

The first business was the revision of the rules, such amendments being made to the laws of the old association as would conform to the administration of the new body. It was mentioned that the trophies had been handed over to the National Association, the form of medals and the name of the old body being retained.

The rule as to the governing and encouragement of athletics "in Ireland" was retained, while it was made binding that competitors in the championships must have been for twelve months resident in Ireland before the date of the event. Championships will be open to any bona fide amateur who is not debarred by having competed at an irregular meeting.

On the question of the registration of athletes, recommended by the Chairman as the means of preventing abuses, Mr. Jefferson (handicapper) said he thought the arrangement would be most difficult to put into practice, particularly in the country districts. It would also be a bar to the Association procuring runners from outside their province, and would entail competition with the National Association, which, he thought, was not desirable. Secretaries would have to be on the field at each event, and much difficulty would be experienced in getting the particulars of new entrants. He had practical knowledge in connection with the cyclists. It was decided that the question be left over in the meantime.

The championship meeting was arranged for 9th June at Cherryvale, whilst with regard to the county championships, which are to be "farmed out" to the counties, Carrickfergus was given the Antrim one mile flat for 30th June. Dates for other sports meetings were also arranged.

The office-bearers were elected as follows:—President—Dr. Robin Hall. Vice-Presidents—Mr. W. W. Whitehead and Mr. W. McL. Martin. Secretary—Mr. S. Gordon. Assistant Secretary and Secretary of Race Committee—Mr. Charles Stewart. Treasurer—Mr. J. Vance. Race Committee—The President, Secretary, and Treasurer, Messrs. S. J. Hutchinson, J. R. Brown, Richard Purdy, W. Mars, W. W. Whitehead, J. S. Campbell, J. Ross, and R. Pedlowe.

SATURDAY HURLING AND FOOTBALL LEAGUE.

A meeting of the Committee was held on Wednesday evening at 68 Upper O'Connell street—E. Pleamonn presiding. The referee's report of last Saturday's match between Bulfins and St. Patrick's, declaring the latter winners, was adopted. The following fixtures were made:—Saturday, April 14th, at Croke Park, Garda Siothchana v. St. Mary's (S.F.), 3.30; S. O'Neill. Saturday, April 21st, at Templeogue, University College v. Milltown Emmets, 4 o'clock; E. Fleming.

All future meetings of the Committee will be held on Monday nights at 7.30 at 68 O'Connell street, prior to Senior Board meeting.

LIVERPOOL, Wednesday.—The heavy decline had already been partly discounted here, and, with c.i.f. parcels offered somewhat sparingly, speculative positions of WHEAT here showed no change at the outset; then values eased slightly, and afterwards fluctuated moderately, according to the offerings, finishing the turn dearer than last night. Wheat on the spot was firm at yesterday's market currencies. MAIZE spot parcels again dearer at 8/0½ to 8/2½ for American and 8/3 to 8/4 per cental for River Plate. FLOUR firm and prices tended upwards. Graded red wheat futures opened unchanged, then lost ½d. to ½d. per cental, and later fluctuated moderately, the market closing steady at late rates to ½d per cental advance on the day. Yellow River Plate maize options nominally ½d. to ½d. per cental dearer.

GLASGOW, Wednesday.—Wheat inactive, buyers and sellers being apart. Corn very firm, but the advance checks business. Oats—All qualities held for higher prices, with a slow demand. Barley quiet and inactive. Flour—Recent values maintained, but dealings are not large.

IRELAND v. FRANCE.

IRISH TEAM'S DEPARTURE.

The Leinster and Munster members of the Irish team to play France at Colombes, Paris, on Saturday will leave Westland row this morning. They will be joined in London by the Ulster members, who left Belfast last evening. The team will put up at the Hotel Russell, London, to-night, and to-morrow morning will leave Victoria Station, at 9.15, en route for Paris, which will be reached at 4.35 p.m. No changes have been notified, and W. E. Cunningham (Lansdowne), and J. D. Clinch (Dublin University) will travel as substitutes.

DUBLIN HOSPITALS (11) v. UNITED BANKS (10).

There was a very moderate attendance at Lansdowne road yesterday, when, after a poor game, the Hospitals managed to pull through by 2 goals (1 penalty) and 1 try to 2 goals. The teams were:—

United Banks—D. Kennedy; Waugh, French, Poff, Buckley; Toombe, Holland; Ackland, T. Murphy, Keogan, S. Keogh, B. Cairnduff, Anketell, and Higginbotham.

Dublin Hospitals—Davies; Joyce, Robinson, O'Meara, Atkins; Nunns, Westropp; Bluett, Broderick, Chance, Bardon, Shepherd, Henry, Corbett, and Campbell.

Referee—Mr. D. Malan.

The Hospitals had a very weak side out, and made eight changes, but the Banks turned out as selected. The match was not a good exhibition of the game, and the Banks, after having the better of the first half, and leading by 10 points to three, failed to stay in the second period, and were beaten by a point. Early on Holland, with a clever run, put the Banks attacking, and in a forward rush, Cairnduff scored, and Kennedy secured five points by goaling. The Banks continued to do most of the pressing, and with Davies at fault, Holland scored for Kennedy to again convert. A little before half-time Atkins dropped at goal, and it just fell short, but Joyce, following up, scored between the posts, but Atkins failed to convert.

Early in the second period, O'Meara put the Medicals attacking, but soon after had to retire hurt. The Banks were next penalised, and Atkins dropped a great penalty goal from outside the Banks' 25. Despite being short, the Hospitals continued to have the best of matters, and a fine bit of passing resulted in Robinson letting Joyce over for Atkins to add the extra points. A few minutes before no side, a great burst by the Banks' forwards brought play well inside the Medicals 25, but a pass forward spoiled a good chance of scoring.

For the winners, Atkins, Robinson, and Nunns (backs), and Shepherd, Broderick, and Bardon (forwards), played well, while the Banks were best represented by Kennedy, Poff, Holland, and Toombe (backs), and Clegg, Ackland, and Cairnduff (forwards). Result:—

Dublin Hospitals—2 goals (1 penalty), 1 try, (11 points).
United Banks—2 goals (10 points).

BOYS' BRIGADE COMPETITION.

ASSOCIATION.

I.F.A. MEETING.

FRENCH TEAM'S VISIT TO DUBLIN.

The usual monthly meeting of the Council of the I.F.A. was held in Belfast.

It was decided to hold the meeting of the International Board at the Giant's Causeway Hotel on June 9. The I.F.A. chairman will preside, and with Messrs. J. MacBride, J. Ferguson, and J. M. Small represent the association.

A discussion ensued regarding the proposed alterations in the laws of the game, and it was decided to leave the matter to the discretion of the delegates.

Arising out of the report of the International Committee, it was stated that in consequence of Lacey (Liverpool) being unable to play, his place would be taken by Lyner (Kilmarnock). It was decided that the arrangements for the annual general meeting, to be held in Portadown, be left in the hands of the Emergency Committee. It was reported by the Finance Committee that Linfield and Glentoran each receive £60 as their share of the final gate.

Mr. J. Ferguson raised the question of a visit to Dublin of the French team, which played Bohemians and a select eleven under the auspices of the Football Association of Ireland. What was their position in the matter? he asked. The Secretary stated that the English, Irish, Scottish, and Welsh Associations were not now members of the International Federation; the Football Association of Ireland were.

It was decided to increase the secretary's salary by £50.

RAILWAY CUP SEMI-FINAL.

COLLEGE OF SCIENCE (3) v. DUBLIN UNIVERSITY 2nd (2).

At Park avenue yesterday afternoon College of Science were just good enough to qualify for the final in this competition by the odd goal in five. Owing to holidays neither side was at full strength, but in this respect the losers were the greater sufferers, and are to be congratulated on the game they produced. College of Science opened with a strong attack, and a good shot by Colclough put them ahead inside the first five minutes. Then the game settled down to a long spell of give-and-take, and it was quite some time before Wilson equalised. From that to the interval the forwards had the better of matters, and each side succeeded in getting through once, Colclough scoring again, and Smith bringing the scores level. Early in the second half Glanville again gave College of Science the lead, and this proved to be the last and winning goal. Both teams had repeated spells of attack, and might have scored more than once, but the shooting was poor, and the end came with the total unchanged. Teams:—

College of Science—M'Neill; Odlum, Spence; Rourke, Webb, Poultridge; Kelly, Glanville, M'Cormick, Lusk, Colclough.

Dublin University 2nd—Gregan; Tuke, Somerville-Large; Foster, Connell, Packham; Wilde, Lloyd, Smith, Wilson, Sythes.

ASSOCIATION OF CHAMBERS.

The meeting of the Conference of the Free State Chamber of Commerce, adjourned from the 1st ult., met yesterday in the Dublin Chamber of Commerce. The proposed constitution of the body of the new Association was discussed at length, and agreement on all points was reached unanimously. The Association will be incorporated immediately and an Executive appointed. It is hoped that it will be possible to begin the work of the new Association at a very early date, when matters of urgent importance to the Commercial community, attention to which has been unavoidably delayed, will be taken up energetically. A letter was received from the Association of Chambers of Commerce of Northern Ireland, intimating that, as soon as both Associations were in full working order, that Association would be glad to co-operate on all matters of common interest.

CLONGOWES UNION DANCE.

The twenty-fifth annual dance, under the auspices of the Clongowes Union, will be held to-morrow night, from 9 p.m. to 3.30 a.m., in the Metropole Cinema Ballroom, Sackville street, Dublin. Mr. Harrison's orchestra will provide the music.

DUBLIN.

WAR LOANS REACH FRESH RECORDS. BANK STOCK LOWER. RAILS HARDER. TEXTILES FIRM.

The further fresh records established in the prices of War Loan 4½ and 5 p.c. Stocks, within a few weeks of being quoted ex the half-year's dividends, payable 1st June next, was a satisfactory feature of the day's business, which was otherwise inclined to prove disappointing, owing to a fairly general, but mostly trifling, set-back in prices. India 3 p.c. was strong also, but Consols relapsed. The Bank section was under notice, but while Nationals were good, and bid for at an advance, Bank of Ireland Stock fell back further on "cash" selling. Breweries and Distilleries were easier, but the Deb. Stock of the Dublin Distillers Company advanced sharply. Marconi Shares were again weaker, but Radio issues were harder. Home Rails varied a little, but the undertone rather improved. Trams and Dunlops were practically idle. The changes in Textiles and Tobaccos were trifling. Burke Pref. were bid for.

In the Funds, War Loan 4½ p.c. rose ⅛ to 100, War Loan 5 p.c. 1/16 to 103, Conversion Loan 1/16 to 79⅛, Guaranteed 2¾ p.c. Land Stock ½ to 62, India 3½ p.c. ½ to 70, and India 3 p.c. ⅝ to 59⅝; but Consols fell 1/16 to 59 9/16, and War Loan 4 p.c. (tax free) 1/16 to 100.

Banks were a bit irregular. Bank Stock fell ⅞ to 232½. Royals repeated 11½, and Hibernians again closed 6 15/16 to 7 nominally. Nationals closed 1/16 higher at 19¼-½ nominally.

In Breweries and Distilleries, Guinness eased 1/16 to 44⅝, and Dublin Distillers Pref., after being 1s. lower at 79s., closed 79s. 9d.; while the Debs., seldom dealt in, rose 4½ to 65.

Marconi Ord. fell 1s. to 49s. 9d., while Radio Common rose 3d. to 17s. 3d.-17s. 6d., and the Prefd. 1½d. to 15s. 4½d. Marconi "Marine" Shares again realised 27s. 6d.

Home Rails were rather steadier on balance. Great Northern rose ½ to 57½, the Pref. 1 to 58½, and the Guaranteed Pref. 4 to 64. Great Southern repeated 46, the Pref. 46½ bid, and the Guaranteed 54½. Midland Great Western fell ½ to 27½, with a subsequent rally to 28, and the 4 p.c. Guaranteed ½ to 53.

In Tyres, Parent Tyre Ord. eased 3d. to 15s. 9d. for a broken lot. Dunlop Rubber Ord. were neglected.

In Drapery Shares, Arnott Pref. repeated 75s., but Pim Brothers Ord. fell 7½d. to 80s.

Among Manufacturing Shares, Bleachers rose 4½d. to 48s. 9d., and Cottons 7½d. to 48s. 4½d. Coats, after being 1½d. up at 66s. 10½d., closed at 66s. 7½d. Courtaulds were firm at 67s. Lever Brothers Pref. issues closed firm. Thwaites Pref. remain scarce. Goulding issues were steady. The Ord. repeated 89s. and the Debs. 75s. British-American Tobacco fell 3d. to 91s. 6d., and Imperials realised 81s.

In Trading, etc., Burke Pref. rose 2s. 6d. to 67s. 6d., and the Debs. repeated 7⅞, McKenzies 6½, Dublin Artisans' Dwellings 6½, and Hibernian Fire 3s. 9d.

Vickers 5 p.c. Pref. (tax free) fell 1½d. to 18s. British Controlled Oil Common realised 13s. 4½d., and the Pref. 13s. 6d.

SUBDUED STOCKS.

RISE IN INDIA STOCKS.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT AND THE "FINANCIAL NEWS" OF TO-DAY.)

In certain departments of the Stock Exchange yesterday, more especially in Industrials, share dealings were numerous, but in the Investment markets the general run of things was more subdued. This was particularly the case with Home Rails, in which for the time being seemingly public interest has almost entirely vanished. The Gilt-edged market opened quite firm and continued so throughout the day, all changes in price leading to higher levels. Only a few of the quotations in Home Funds, however, underwent any alteration, Funding Loan and Victory Bonds being the favoured exceptions. War Loan Fives opened at 102⅞, and remained at that figure until just before the close, when they slipped back to their overnight quotation. Conversion Loan fluctuated between 78 11/16 and 78 13/16, and at the finish struck the happy medium of the previous day's closing price. Interest in this market was almost solely concentrated on the India division, all the securities in which ruled very steady and closed substantially higher.

LONDON STOCKS UNCERTAIN.

BUSINESS DECLINING.

On the Stock Markets yesterday there was a further shrinkage in business, with an irregular tendency. Here and there a bright spot was noticeable, but generally the markets were dull and uninteresting. British Funds, with the exception of India Loans, were unchanged. India Loans, however, were exceptionally firm. The 3 p.c. at 60, the 3½ p.c. at 70, and the 7 p.c. at 119 all rose a point, while the 5½ p.c. rose ⅛ to 102¼.

FOREIGN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES were almost without movement. French Loans were firm and unchanged, while Japan Fours of 1905 rose 1 to 89 and Egyptian Unified rose ½ to 73½.

HOME RAILWAYS shared in the depression, and movements were few. London North-Eastern Def.-Ord. rose ¼ to 38½ and the 2nd Pref. rose ¼ to 82½. Metropolitan rose ½ to 69, but Districts fell ½ to 55½.

In COLONIAL and FOREIGN RAILWAYS Canadian Pacific rose a point to 161. Argentines showed fresh weakness, "B.A.G.S." falling ½ to 88, Western 1 to 85, and Centrals ½ to 76. Entre Rios Ord.-Pref. rose ½ to 74½. Leopoldina dropped ½ at 32, and United Havana at 73½ fell 1.

OIL SHARES IRREGULAR.

SHELL DIVIDEND ESTIMATE.

Conditions in the Oil Share market yesterday were much the same as those prevailing on the preceding day, and business can best be described as patchy. Consequently, while transactions in certain favourites were fairly numerous and resulted in advances in quotations, others met with only a small amount of attention and developed an easier tendency. Leading issues generally came into the latter category. Shells, for instance, registered a decline as a result of moderate amount of offering, attributable to market estimates of the final dividend. It had been anticipated in some quarters that the distribution would be 17½ p.c., free of tax, making the total for the year 27½ p.c. as for 1921; but the view now generally prevails that 12½ p.c., making 22½ p.c., free of tax, is the best that can be hoped for. Royal Dutch again weakened, and Anglo-Persian Ord., although finishing above the worst, also registered a decline. The easier tendency in the leaders was to some extent due to the fact that the price of Pennsylvanian crude has been reduced by 25c. per barrel. Closing prices:—

LONDON MINING MARKET QUIET.

DURBAN DEEP'S PURCHASE.

No material change was observable in the Stock Exchange yesterday, the strength of the Gilt-edged market being the only notable feature. Speculative activity was at a low ebb, and in the Mining departments very few important changes were recorded. Kaffirs for the most part remained in a semi-comatose condition, buying and selling being on a very modest scale, and the publication of the Rand output for March aroused but little interest. In the absence of support, prices had a downward trend, and only about a half dozen counters resisted the general tendency. Of these Goldfields were better, and "Johnnies," Nigel, T.C.L., and Witwatersrand Deep all improved, but Central Mining, Crown Mines, Union Corporation, and the Randfonteins weakened. Durban Deep were again in request on the official announcement that the company has acquired the deep level ground of the Princess Estate, which will practically double the life of the mine. The purchase has, we are informed, been made on very advantageous terms to the Durban Deep. Consolidated Main Reef continued on the downward tack, and East Rand receded. Simmer and Jack were unaffected by the news of water trouble in the mine. The Cape sent over fairly extensive selling orders, and Paris was inclined to dispose of its specialities, and the offering from these on a market already predisposed to dulness created a feeling of nervousness, so that the tone at the close was distinctly dull. Closing prices:—

INTERESTING INDUSTRIALS

IMPERIAL TOBACCOS STRONG.

Business in the Miscellaneous and Industrial markets yesterday was mostly confined to specialities, the approaching Budget statement exercising a restrictive influence. Movements again displayed irregularity. The outstanding feature was the strength of Imperial Tobaccos, which came into sudden demand towards the close on reports that an announcement would be made during the course of the evening. Some said that one new share would be given for every three held, while others thought it would be one in four. Another strong spot was the Cellulose issues, which met considerable support on statements that the company is doing very well, while in some quarters there was talk of the company being taken over. There was not so much doing in the Iron and Steel market, but all the better class descriptions were wanted, Babcock and Guest Keen further appreciating. Vickers continued dull. Courtaulds eased, and Textiles generally were rather off colour. Marconis were dull, but Cables showed firmness. Further advances occurred in the Insurance group, while Bank Shares had a fairly firm appearance. The Newspaper and Printing group were better. Daily Mirrors enjoyed a sharp advance, and Associated Def. improved. Among Miscellaneous concerns, United Alkalis were a good market on the proposed bonus distribution. Metropolitan Trusts rose sharply.

Cellulose Ord. and the Prefs. met with support, the former, after changing hands at up to 14s. 6d., left off 9d. better at 13s. 6d., while the latter finished 6d. higher at 15s. 6d., after being 16s. bid at one time. English Sewing Cottons improved to 48s.. Courtaulds continued off colour, and closed 3d. lower at 66s. 7½d. Bradford Dyers fell 1s. to 55s. 6d., as did also Calico Printers to 25s. 6d. Bleachers receded to 48s., and Fine Spinners to the same level. Hope Bros. were still under the influence of the increased dividend announcement, and advanced to 23s., or 1s. 9d. higher on the day. John Barkers rose 6d. to 53s. 6d., and Harrods held their ground at 36s. Lyons strengthened to 4 13/16, and Appollinaris Pref. gained ⅛ at 2⅝. Imperial Tobaccos came into sudden demand towards the close, and rose to 83s. In the Street the shares were bid for at 83s. 1½d., and the price closed 2s. 3d. better on the day at 83s. 3d. B.A.T.'s dropped 6d. to 91s. 6d., and United Tobaccos, South, 1s. to 58s., while Canadas eased to 24s. 6d. Among Iron and Steels, Guest Keens were in demand, and finished 9d. better on balance at 42s. 6d. Howard and Bullough improved to 51s. 3d., and Babcock and Wilcox continued their advance to 78s. on dividend prospects. Vickers came on offer, and eased to 15s., and Armstrongs to 18s. 6d. Marconis gave way to 2½, and the Prefs. to 2 1/16. The Debs. gained ½ at 107½, and Marines held their ground at 1⅜. Canadians eased to 10s. 3d.

The feature of the Newspaper and Printing department was the strength of Daily Mirrors, which, after being dealt in at up to 5⅜, closed 1/16 higher at 5 11/16. Associated Def. rose 1/16 to 7 1/16 x.d., but Amalgamated Press fell 1s. to 42s. In Motors, Dennis Bros. hardened to 29s. 3d., and Humbers to 25s. 3d., while Vauxhalls rose 9d. to 8s. 6d. Rolls Royce fell back to 30s. x.d., and Rovers eased to 23s. 6d. Dunlops and the A Prefs. both lost 3d. at 9s. 4½d. and 16s. 9d. respectively. Metropolitan Trusts enjoyed a further rise to 254½, or 16 higher on the day. Among Chemical shares United Alkalis continued in demand, and finished 1s. 9d. better at 41s. 3d. Brunner Monds, however, further receded to 41s. 9d.; Salt Unions lost 6d. at 21s. 3d. x.d., and Borax Def. 3d. at 38s. 3d. In recent issues Cellulose Holdings Debs. held their ground at 17 prem. Bolckow Vaughan Debs. fell ½ to 4 prem., as did also Illingworth Morris Debs. to 1⅜ prem.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

Lipton, Ltd., announce that the transfer books of the 9 p.c. Cum. Pref. shares will be closed from April 16th to the 30th, inclusive, for the purpose of preparing the dividend warrants.

Further evidence of the greater activity in the Chilian nitrate trade is forthcoming from the improved returns of the British-owned railway companies operating in that country. The March return of the Taltal Railway, for instance, shows an increase in traffic receipts of nearly £10,000 over those of March, 1922, making an aggregate gain for the nine months of £73,290. This company has always been a good dividend-payer, and for the past two years, despite the trade slump, has managed to pay 7 p.c. to its shareholders. Last year this was only accomplished by taking credit for £25,623 in respect of income tax recovered, and transferring £20,000 from reserve; but with the much better results now being secured it is hoped that the dividend this year will be maintained without recourse to outside sources.

It is interesting to note Sir Arthur Whinney's remarks at the recent meetings of creditors and shareholders of Cubitts Engineering Company, Ltd., when he suggested that the solution of the difficulties of the company, and, indeed, of the whole motor engineering industry might well lie in a policy of amalgamation and concentration of production, in place of the present system of producing a variety of different small cars, which has a tendency to increase costs of production, and to scatter available engineering talent.

The annual meeting of the proprietors of the Dublin and Lucan Electric Railway Company will be held at Conyngham road Terminus on Thursday, 26th April, at noon, for the purpose of receiving the report of the directors and statement of accounts and statistical returns for the past year, and for transacting the other ordinary business of the company. The transfer books of the company will be closed from the 19th to 30th April, both days inclusive.

TRANSVAAL GOLD OUTPUT.

The total gold output of the Transvaal for the month of March amounts to 761,586 ozs., which compares with 704,970 ozs. for February, an increase of 56,616 ozs. The daily average production during March was 24,567 ozs., as compared with 25,177 ozs. in February.

The Transvaal Chamber of Mines reports the number of natives employed by members of the Witwatersrand Native Labour Association and contractors as follows:—Gold mines—End March, 181,473; end February, 182,983. Coal mines—End March, 14,710; end February, 14,717. Diamond mines—End March, 1,273; end February, 1,227. Totals, 197,456—198,927.

Clogher Presbytery has appointed the Rev. G. T. Boyd, Lisbellaw, Moderator in succession to the Rev. T. McKinney, Glenhoy.

THE MONEY MARKET.

UNCERTAIN POSITION OF LOANS.

FRENCH FRANCS REACT.

Considerable doubt existed about the capacity of Lombard street to repay the moderately large sum due to the Bank yesterday, but this was effected as a consequence of better relief measures afforded by the buying of short bills—early Junes at 2 p.c. The position of money was very uncertain during most of the day, there being quite a scramble early on, when 2½ p.c. was frequently offered for night loans, the charge ranging down to 2 p.c. Apart from the special business referred to, there was stagnation in discounts, with the tone steady. For fine three months' bills 2 7/16 p.c., with a small demand in evidence.

Gold was 4d. per oz. lower at 88s. 6d. Silver rose ⅛d. per oz. for spot but was unchanged for forward delivery at 31 11/16d. and 31½d. respectively.

The feature of the Foreign Exchange market yesterday was the reactionary movement in French francs to 70.25-70.35, Belgian being 81.50-81.60 and Italy 93⅝-93⅞. Brazilian milreis were steadier at 5⅛, and Argentine dollars were dull at 42⅞-42 15/16, with Chili maintained at 37.80. Swiss francs were not so good at 25.48-25.52, but Norwegian kroner were steadier at 25.88-25.92, Holland being 11.89¼. Austrian crowns were 320,000-340,000, Polish marks 190,000-210,000, Rumanian 970-1,020, Greece 390-400, and Prague 156-157. The following are closing quotations:—

NATIONAL MINING CORPORATION.—The net profits for the year to the 31st December amounted to £26,408 0/3, which the directors propose should be carried forward. Since that date, apart from the further appreciation in the value of securities, important profits have been realised.

HOPE BROTHERS.—The directors, after making provision for the sinking fund for redemption of leases, depreciation, income tax, and corporation tax, recommend a dividend at the rate of 15 per cent. per annum, less tax, on the Ordinary Shares, making 10 per cent. for the year, compared with 6 per cent. for the previous year and 10 per cent. for the year to 28th February, 1921.

RADIO CORPORATION OF AMERICA.—Report for 1922 states that the Corporation was formed as a result of appeal by representatives of Navy Department of United States Government to ends of (1) establishing an American-owned, operated, and controlled radio communications company powerful enough to meet the competition of the radio interests of other nations; (2) establishing such an international communications system that United States would not be dependent upon foreign-owned cables; and (3) providing for construction and operation of radio stations at home and abroad under such terms and conditions as would best serve the needs of American people and their Government. Corporation during past year for first time has been able to develop free from previously existing patent restrictions receiving and sending apparatus essential for carrying out purposes for which Corporation was formed. Radio telephone broadcasting has reached a more advanced stage of development in United States than in any other country in the world. During year Corporation entered into agreement with Royal Telegraph Administration of Sweden for super-power station to be erected at Varberg, Sweden, for communication with rest of world, and primarily with United States. Substantial progress has been made in erection of high power station at Monte Grande, near Buenos Aires. It is expected that station will be ready for operation in July, 1923, at which time it will represent total investment of approximately 6,000,000 dollars. In 1921 the Federal Telegraph Company entered into contract with Republic of China for building certain radio stations. Corporation has entered into agreement with Federal Telegraph Company whereby both companies have formed new company called Federal Telegraph Company of Delaware, which company is willing to take over contract concessions which Federal Telegraph Company of California has with Republic of China. After providing for depreciation of plant and inventory, net profit was 2,974,579 dollars, which has been allocated, in main, to reserves for patents and Federal income tax, balance having been applied against organisation expense. Profits were not sufficient up to 31st December, 1921, to meet patent amortisation called for by schedule, and it was necessary to charge 1,666,284 dollars against Common stock equity. Total of 2,480,576 dollars transferred from 1922 earnings provides for 1922 patent amortisation and restoration of above amount to Common stock equity. Gross revenue from trans-oceanic service showed an increase of 36 per cent. and marine service of 14 per cent. over relative totals for previous year.
